

Biography

Professor Irene Henriques
Schulich School of Business
York University

ihenriques@schulich.yorku.ca

416-736-5068

Irene Henriques is a Professor of Sustainability and Economics at the Schulich School of Business, York University in Toronto Canada and the Chair of the York University Advisory Committee on Responsible Investing. Her research interests span economics, stakeholder management and sustainability. She has published numerous articles in leading economic and management journals. She is a member of the IRIS Executive Committee, York University. From 2001 to 2005, she was a member of an OECD working group on firm level environmental management and environmental policy. In 2008-2009, she was Chair of the Organizations and the Natural Environment (ONE) Division of the Academy of Management. In 2005, she was appointed by the Canadian Minister of the Environment for a three year term to the Joint Public Advisory Committee (JPAC) to the US, Canadian and Mexican Environment Ministers under NAFTA (the Commission for Environmental Cooperation) and in 2007 was elected Chair of JPAC. She received her PhD in economics from Queen's University and her Bachelor's and Master's of Science degrees from the Université de Montréal. Irene is fluent in four languages (English, French, Portuguese and Spanish).