

Join us for two innovation workshops

... as we consider approaches towards Broadening the Base of resources to create 1,000 new affordable homes in Ottawa.

Ottawa is a caring community, and together, we have made progress towards adding to our affordable housing in many parts of the community. Yet, critical gaps remain. It's time to foster a community conversation on innovative approaches to enhance availability of affordable housing.

What tools might be available? What might we learn from elsewhere?

Wednesday October 15, 2014: 10:00 am – 12:00 pm

Location: Beaver Barracks, 464 Metcalfe

The Overall Picture: How might we create 1,000 units? Where might the land be? What kind of housing projects could we develop? Speakers will reflect on a variety of project types, from mixed housing to land trusts, from private development to non-profit housing.

Speakers:

- Randal Goodfellow (Broadening the Base); Dennis Carr (CAHDCO); Graeme Hussey (CCOC); Saide Sayah (City of Ottawa); others may be added.

Wednesday October 29, 2014: 10:00 am – 12:00 pm

Location: Beaver Barracks, 464 Metcalfe

Financial Mechanisms & Philanthropy: Developing 1,000 units will require substantial financial capital, some borrowed and some philanthropy. What are some potential mechanisms / approaches?

Speakers:

- Chris Henderson (Broadening the Base); Norm Tasevski (Purpose Capital); James McGregor (Montreal R-REIT); Tessa Hebb (Carleton University)

Registration / Information:

mike@endhomelessnessottawa.ca (tel: 613-241-1573 x 314)

Broadening the Base conveners:

Randal Goodfellow, Chris Henderson, Val Hinsperger, Graeme Hussey, Mike Bulthuis