

Institute of
African Studies
CARLETON UNIVERSITY

The Institute of African Studies with support from the Department of Law and Legal Studies &
the Norman Paterson School of International Affairs
presents

PEACELAND: An Ethnography of International Intervention

With

Séverine Autesserre, Columbia University

Thursday, 24 January, 6:00 - 7:30 pm

C164 Loeb Building, Carleton University***

Dr. Séverine Autesserre is an Assistant Professor of Political Science, specializing in international relations and African studies, at Barnard College, Columbia University. She is the author of The Trouble with the Congo: Local Violence and the Failure of International Peacebuilding (Cambridge University Press, 2010), which won the 2012 Grawemeyer Award for Ideas Improving World Order and the 2011 Chadwick Alger prize.

This talk comes from her current research which examines everyday practices, habits, frames, and narratives influence peacebuilding interventions on the ground. It is based on extensive fieldwork for this project between 2010 and 2012, with a primary case study on the eastern Democratic Republic of Congo and comparative research in Burundi, Cyprus, Israel and the Palestinian Territories, South Sudan, and Timor-Leste.

For more information, please contact the Institute of African Studies at 613-520-2600 ext. 2220 or African\_Studies@carleton.ca

*For a campus map, please see: <http://www2.carleton.ca/cu/campus/>