

Department of Geography & Environmental Studies

Founders Seminar

A Panel Discussion

Sponsored By Carleton's Department Of Geography And Environmental Studies and the Centre for European Studies, European Union Centre of Excellence

CLIMATE CHANGE IN A POST- COPENHAGEN WORLD

PANELISTS:

Matthew Bramley: Pembina Institute (Director, Climate Change)

Simon Carter: International Development Research Centre (Director, Climate Change Adaptation In Africa Research And Capacity Development Program)

Simon Dalby: Carleton (Professor, Department of Geography & Environmental Studies)

Chris Russill: Carleton (Professor, School of Journalism and Communications)

John Stone: Carleton (Adjunct Research Professor, Department of Geography & Environmental Studies)

Friday, March 19th, 2010

1:30 – 4:30 p.m.

303 Paterson Hall

ALL WELCOME

The overall purpose of this workshop is to reflect on what was accomplished at the Copenhagen Climate Conference, factors that frustrated progress, and most importantly, opportunities to advance climate negotiations over the short to medium term.

This event is supported, in part, by a grant from the European Commission