

The British High Commission, the European Union Centre of Excellence of Carleton University and the Department of Geography and Environmental Studies of Carleton University have the pleasure of inviting you to a public round table discussion

Climate and Energy Security:

Views from the EU and Canada

Date: 20 September, 2010

Time: 5:00 pm (pre-registration is required)

RSVP by September 16th, 2010 at energyandsecurity@carleton.ca

Place: British High Commission, 80 Elgin Street, Ottawa

Rear Admiral Neil Morisetti,

Climate and Energy Security Envoy of the Ministry of Defence and the Foreign and Commonwealth Office, UK; and

Jeffrey Simpson, Columnist, Globe and Mail

How can we achieve climate security in the context of political deadlock over emissions targets? How can we achieve energy security in a carbon-constrained world? And what of possible conflicts arising from scarce resources? This event will offer European and Canadian perspectives on these questions and address possible strategies for tackling them.

For more information, please contact the Centre for European Studies, Carleton University at 613-520-2600, ext. 1087, or send an e-mail to ces@carleton.ca

This event is funded in part by a grant from the European Commission