

CENTRE FOR
FREE EXPRESSION

IS THERE A RAPE CULTURE IN CANADA?

"Rape culture" has become a key concept as Canadians try to understand and effectively address sexual assault and sexual violence. But does the idea that there is a "culture" of rape help or harm our efforts? Join three of Canada's leading experts in this critical discussion.

Panalist

Brenda Cossman

Professor of Law and
Director, Mark S. Bonham
Centre for Sexual Diversity Studies,
University of Toronto

Panalist

Ummni Khan

Associate Professor of Law and Legal Studies, Carleton University, and Joint Chair
in Women's Studies,
Carleton University and the University of Ottawa

Panalist

Lara Karaian

Associate Professor,
Institute of Criminology
and Criminal Justice,
Carleton University

Moderator

Penni Stewart

Associate Professor
of Sociology,
York University

Wednesday, November 9, 2016, 12:00-1:30 pm

Room 103, Rogers Communications Centre, Ryerson University, 80 Gould Street
(at the corner of Church St.)

Please contact cfe@ryerson.ca if you require accommodation to ensure inclusion in this event.

Ryerson University

Centre for Free Expression
Faculty of Communication
& Design