

Carleton University EngFrosh

Proposal for CUESEF Funding Winter 2014

Group Introduction

Carleton University is home to one of the longest and most exciting Engineering Orientation Programs, known simply as EngFrosh. Every year over 200 returning engineering students run EngFrosh for over 450 incoming students allowing first years to bond with their classmates. Throughout the year different students are appointed to planning positions and are given different responsibilities. One of these positions is Photography Director, who is responsible for documenting EngFrosh throughout the year starting as early as January. These photos are then used on the EngFrosh website, flyers and in future publications.

Funding

This proposal for equipment funding is being put forth by the EngFrosh directors to request funding for a lens for the digital camera that we received from CUESEF Funding in the Winter Semester of 2013. This year, it was found that the current lens in the possession of EngFrosh provides the Photography Director the ability to capture photographs of individuals from distance, but it does not lend itself favourably to capturing photographs from a close distance or of large groups.

This new lens will allow the photography director to take photos of the week from both near and far. With over 650 incoming students and volunteers participating in EngFrosh, capturing the interactions between groups of students is vital. It is for this reason that we request funding to purchase a Canon EF-S 18-55mm image stabilized lens. This lens would allow the Photography Director to take quality pictures of the exchanges between groups that make EngFrosh so memorable.

We plan to purchase this lens from Henry's at a cost of $293.97 including tax. Purchasing this lens from Henry's ensures a warranty which will ensure any damage to the lens or malfunction will be covered. An image of the lens and the quote from Henry's can be found in Appendix A.

If EngFrosh receives this funding we will treat CUESEF as one of our regular sponsors for the 2014 year. This would mean that the CUESEF logo would be on the back of all of the t-shirts, posted on the website and CUESEF would have the opportunity to put something in the EngFrosh kits that we give out to all involved students.

Conclusion:

In conclusion, EngFrosh is requesting funding for a new lens for the Canon Camera we received in Winter 2013. The total cost of this request is $293.79.
