INSTRUCTORS NEEDED
to create courses in data science

Data Science and Analytics have taken the world by storm. IBM BigDataUniversity.com offers MOOCs in data science and analytics to train the next generation of much needed data scientists.

We need instructors to generate original course content in a variety of disciplines (not just in statistics or computer science) that use data for creating new knowledge.

If you are passionate about data science and possess the following attributes, we are interested in speaking with you.

- Advanced user of analytics

- Subject matter expertise in your discipline

- Experienced in teaching as a TA or a course instructor

- Some experience in curriculum development

If interested, please send your CV and a cover letter (highlighting your relevant experience) to: Murtaza Haider at murtaza@regionomics.com at the earliest convenience.

REGIONOMICS