Department of English
Summer 2016

ENGL2903A: Fiction Workshop

Schedule: Tuesdays 6:05 pm - 8:55 pm
May 3 – August 14

Location: TBA

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor

Instructor: Richard Taylor
E-mail: taylorswave@gmail.com
www.taylorswave.ca

APPLYING TO THE COURSE:

Like all the writing workshops in the English Department, to gain entry into the Summer Fiction Workshop, you must submit a portfolio before you get to register.

If you are thinking about taking the Summer Fiction Workshop, please email me beforehand for a chat at taylorswave@gmail.com.

Summer registration period begins March 23 but you must submit your portfolio first. It should be 5-10 double spaced pages and must include a brief biographical sketch and statement on why you want to take the workshop and include any of the following examples from your writing: stories, postcard stories, parts of novels, or creative nonfiction like blogs, magazine pieces, personal essays, memoir or travel writing. You can submit excerpts from longer pieces of work, but describe how the excerpt relates to the longer piece.

Portfolios should be emailed to me at taylorswave@gmail.com. The deadline for submission is the middle of April. Please include a cover page with your name, Carleton student number, Carleton email address and telephone number. Because of the large number of enthusiastic applicants, it's advisable to contact me and submit a portfolio as soon as possible.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The Fiction Workshop offers instruction in creative writing with an emphasis on short stories, post card stories and novels, although creative nonfiction, such as personal essays, humour, memoir, blogs, literary journalism and travel writing will be briefly discussed. Each participant must be prepared to submit committed work and to further the group's on-going dialogue on the pieces submitted. The early workshops will consist of fun, stimulating writing exercises. Participants are expected to use these prompts for warm up purposes and to hone their skills and to explore new territory. Time will be devoted to learning how to balance inspiration and discipline, finding a personal voice, choosing a subject and developing a sense of structure. There will be group critiques of works-in-progress. Warm summer evenings some class time will be on the banks of the Rideau River.

PLEASE TAKE NOTE:

The Fiction Workshop will not be directed toward any particular genre or style. We should be trying to understand something of the complexity and mystery of storytelling and writing, wherever it occurs. I am looking for enthusiastic, committed people in the thrall of books and writing who are interested in developing and honing what talent already exists. Everyone will write and submit work to the group for critiquing by all participants. All kinds of original, imaginative writing are welcome, and freedom of expression for all points of view is zealously maintained. Every week several writers will submit a manuscript (story, chapter) to be workshopped and critiqued for the next class. These manuscripts will be taken home. Each writer will read each manuscript with a pencil or pen in hand and write comments about what makes it work and what might make it work better. I'll give you guidelines – Things to Consider When Critiquing a Piece of Writing. There is no text required for this workshop, but you will be required to read examples of published material, and read and edit the work of fellow writers. It is the responsibility of each student to pay for and reproduce sufficient copies of your work for each of your classmates and to hand them out the week preceding the workshop. Each manuscript must be typed, double spaced and double sided in legible typeface.

You must be willing to come to every class, and to deal with forthright analysis of your work in a select but public forum. Your text (manuscript) at first will have to speak for you; the discussion, in one form or another will go around the table of workshoppers; you will listen; I will listen; then perhaps sum up and sometimes interject, or occasionally take the discussion in a new direction. The sessions will be lively, resembling at various times an encounter group session or debating society. There will also be quiet moments of communication, humour, revelation and probably as much person to person with the instructor and others in the group as you would wish.

EVALUATION:

There will be three specific writing assignments: A short postcard story, 500 words or less. A short story, 2,000 words or less. A group mini novel assignment, 2,000 words or less. In teams of 3 writers each group member will write a short chapter of a group mini novel. Before the end of term each writer will also submit a revised and edited version of their post card story and short story.

There will be no mark for individual pieces. Because this is a creative writing workshop, there will be opportunities for spontaneity and improvisation, but you must be willing to read, write, edit and fully participate. Your final course grade will be based on the following factors:

- 1) (60%) Quality and originality of your writing.
- 2) (30%) Quality of your oral and written editorial comments on the work of others, and your discussion contribution. The energy, depth and enthusiasm with which you contribute to the collective process.
- 3) (10%) ATTENDANCE!

Plagiarism: The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentionally or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in "substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs."

Plagiarism is a serious offence that cannot be resolved directly by the course’s instructor. The Associate Dean of the Faculty conducts a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of "F" for the course. For more information please go to:

Academic Accommodation: You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. Students with special needs/disabilities, or students who require academic accommodations are invited to contact the Paul Menton Centre, 613-520-6608. For an accommodation request the processes are as follows:

Pregnancy obligation: write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details see the Student Guide <http://carleton.ca/equity/accommodation/academic/students/>

Religious obligation: write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details see the Student Guide above.

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

Instructor:

Richard Taylor has been at Carleton since 1995 when he was Carleton Writer-In-Residence. He has lectured in 20th Century Literature and since the mid 90s he's taught the Fiction Workshop, and more recently also the Creative Nonfiction Workshop. He has taught writing in Hong Kong, Australia, Tuscany and over 135 workshops in Ottawa. For the last 11 years he has offered a summer writer's retreat, Write by the Lake in Val des Monts Quebec near a waterfall at his beautiful lake house Monet Bay. He has published a collection of short stories, Tender Only To One and a novel, Cartoon Woods, an Australian travel memoir, House Inside the Waves: Domesticity, Art and the Surfing Life, and many feature magazine articles. Hundreds of his writers have published work as a result of taking his workshops. While surfing and open water swimming around the world, he is working on a book about swimming with writers, Water and Desire.
