

Interested in Nationalism and Ethnic Politics? Take a EURUS summer class!

Photo credit: European Commission (first three photos, left to right); Russian Church (artist unknown).

NATIONALISM AND ETHNIC CONFLICT IN EASTERN AND CENTRAL EUROPE

EURR 4008/5008 Summer 2017 (Tues/Thur 11:35AM-2:25PM from May 2 – June 13)

From the clash of empires to two world wars, from the dominance of Soviet ideology to the rise of ethnic nationalism, 20th century Central and Eastern Europe has witnessed unrelenting drama, change and conflict. This course considers the degree and extent to which nation-building processes and ethnic conflicts have developed and unfolded within Eastern and Central Europe from the collapse of Soviet bloc to today.

Read more about the class at:

<http://carleton.ca/eurus/current-students/course-outlines/>