

PUBLIC LECTURES OF THE
Carleton Centre for the Study of Islam

COLLEGE OF THE HUMANITIES

A Public Lecture

The Wisdom of Islam for Non-Muslims

By

Matthew A. MacDonald

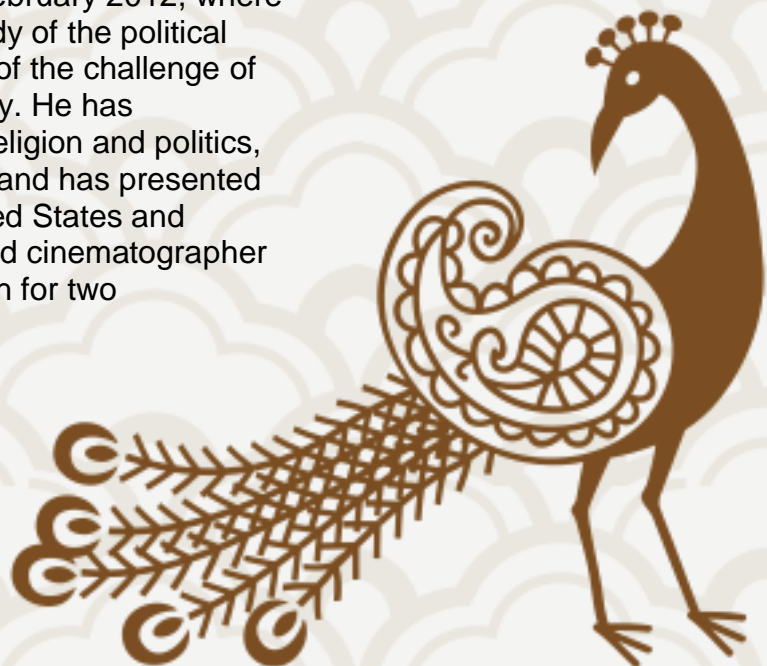

Monday February 4, 2013

Paterson Hall 303: 6:00 pm

Matthew A. MacDonald is an independent scholar based in Ottawa. He completed his PhD in Political Science at Carleton University in February 2012, where he undertook a comprehensive study of the political theology of Tariq Ramadan in light of the challenge of moral, ethical, and religious diversity. He has developed and taught courses on religion and politics, Islam, and Muslim political thought and has presented his work at conferences in the United States and Canada. He is also an accomplished cinematographer and is currently conducting research for two documentaries he is producing.

Carleton
UNIVERSITY

The lecture is sponsored by the Centre for the Study of Islam,
Abdul al-Qadir Gilani's Fund and the College of the Humanities