Transit to Carleton University

Take the O-Train to campus this fall. Ride in comfort aboard the modern Light Rail Bombardier Talent Train. The O-Train runs between Greenboro Station in the south and Bayview Station in the north, with a handy stop right in the heart of campus. Service runs seven days a week and every 15 minutes in most time periods. Use your transit pass or buy a $2.50 O-Train ticket. Please remember — always use the pedestrian tunnel to cross the tracks.

If the train is not along your route, then the bus is still a fast, easy and economical way of getting to campus.

- Routes 4 and 7 operate on campus all day, seven days a week. Catch route 4 downtown on Rideau, Wellington or Bank Streets, or transfer to route 4 at Hurdman or Billings Bridge Stations. Route 4 is also your connection to the intercity bus terminal. Catch route 7 downtown on Bank or Rideau Streets.
- Route 117 serves the campus Monday to Friday and connects with Algonquin College. Catch the bus at Baseline Station or along Meadowlands.
