"Students with disabilities requiring academic accommodations in this course must contact a coordinator at the Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities to complete the necessary Letters of Accommodation. After registering with the PMC, make an appointment to meet and discuss your needs with me in order to make the necessary arrangements as early in the term as possible, but no later than two weeks before the first assignment is due or the first test requiring accommodations. For further information, please see: http://www.carleton.ca/pmc/students/accom_policy.html . If you require accommodation for your formally scheduled exam(s) in this course, please submit your request for accommodation to PMC by November 15, 2010 for Fall exams and March 11, 2010 for Winter exams. For Religious and Pregnancy accommodations, please contact Equity Services, x. 5622 or their website: www.carleton.ca/equity

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course is an introductory examination of the social and philosophical context of private law relations, focusing on the concepts of legal personhood and legal individualism in the first eight classes, and on concepts of property in the final four classes.

REQUIRED TEXTS:

Neil Sargent and Logan Atkinson (eds.) Just Between the Law and Us: Volume I – Persons and Property (North York: Captus Press, 2010).

Logan Atkinson and Neil Sargent Private Law, Social Life: An Introduction (2nd Edition) (Toronto: LexisNexis, 2007).

Both of these texts are required, and both are (or will soon be) available in the University Bookstore.

EVALUATION

(All components must be completed in order to get a passing grade)

Student work will be evaluated in accordance with the following formula:

Mid-term take-home examination	30%
December examination	70%
Total	100%

The Mid-term take-home examination will be available to students on Tuesday 12 October 2010, and will be due in hardcopy on Wednesday 27 October 2010. Complete details will be provided when the examination is made available.

The December examination will be a multiple choice examination consisting of 140 questions to be done in three hours during the regularly scheduled examination period. Details on the date, time and location of the examination will be provided as the term progresses.
