COURSE OBJECTIVE AND CONTENT

The course is designed to assist students in developing legal research skills and techniques in traditional and electronic research methodologies and in applying those skills and techniques. The focus will be law-related and social-science related resources. Students will have an opportunity to develop these skills and techniques in the classroom and through participation in labs and will apply these skills and techniques through developing and writing a research proposal. Students will require a Quicklaw account.

REQUIRED TEXTS

EVALUTATION SCHEME

Evaluation Component	Value	Assigned	Due
Class Participation	10%		(ongoing)
Research Topic & Annotated Bibliography	15%	Jan. 7	Feb. 4
Case Law Assignment	15%	Jan. 28	Feb. 25
Statutes Assignment	15%	Feb. 25	March 18
Research Proposal	45%	Feb. 25	April 3

COURSE COMPONENTSParticipation 10%

This course is structured as a seminar in which individual participation is an important component of the course. You are expected to contribute to in-class discussions and come to class having read the assigned readings. Your participation mark is based upon actual attendance in classes and labs and your contribution to group discussions and presentations.

Research Topic & Annotated Bibliography 15%

In this first assignment you are required to provide a properly formulated research question (subject areas will be provided to you). You must also appropriately cite and annotate three relevant secondary sources that are directly relevant to your research question. All citations must conform to the citation style set out in the Canadian Guide to Uniform Legal Citation.

Case Law Assignment 15%

In this assignment you are required to identify relevant cases and discuss their importance to your project. This assignment allows you to demonstrate your ability to find relevant cases. You will also be required to provide a case brief for one of the cases. All citations must conform to the citation style set out in the Canadian Guide to Uniform Legal Citation.

Statutes and Related Materials Assignment 15%

In this assignment you are required to identify relevant statutes and government documents and discuss their importance to your project. This assignment allows you to demonstrate your ability to find these relevant materials. All citations must conform to the citation style set out in the Canadian Guide to Uniform Legal Citation.

Research Proposal 45%

This final assignment asks you produce a final research proposal incorporating and expanding on all the research that you have done throughout the term. You should also reflect upon the interdisciplinary dimensions of the research question and how this will affect your approach to the research. All relevant journal articles, case law, statutes and government documents must be properly cited. You will be evaluated on your ability to propose a project that is clearly defined and provides an analysis of the benefits of integrating social science and legal research methods.

More detailed instructions for assignments will be provided in class.

ASSIGNMENTS

Any written work submitted must be typewritten, double-spaced, 12pt Times New Roman font with standard 1 inch margins. All assignments must include a title page with the course code, your name and your student number and my name on it. Title pages, bibliographies and endnotes are not counted in calculating page length for an assignment.

All written assignments must be completed in order to pass the course.

All assignments must be handed in at the Law Department office drop box by 4:00 pm on the due date or to me personally in class. Assignments will not be accepted by e-mail or under the door of the sessional instructors' office.

Students must keep a hard copy of anything submitted for marking for 3 months after submission.

LATE ASSIGNMENTS

Late assignments will be marked down by one-half letter grade (e.g. B to B-, B- to C+) for each day the assignment is late. Assignments must be submitted within 6 days of the due date. If they are submitted after 6 days they will receive a grade of F. Requests for an extension must be made to me prior to the due date and will only be considered if there is an extreme reason (requests must be accompanied by supporting documentation).
