COURSE DESCRIPTION

The aim of the course is to help students develop a critical understanding of the sentencing process and gain an appreciation of the important role of sentencing in the Canadian criminal justice system. A substantive examination of sentencing will be presented with extensive reference to the Criminal Code of Canada, other legislation, and case law. A brief overview of the historical perspective of sentencing will provide some understanding of the shift in societal values and perspectives on punishment. The focus of the course will be on the current sentencing regime in Canada with emphasis on sentencing principles and procedure, sentencing options, sentencing for particular offences and of specific offenders, and the role of victims in the sentencing process. As the class is crafted in a seminar style, there will be extensive analysis and discussion concerning the purpose and effect of modern day sentencing practices and what they reveal about Canadian society.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course students should have a solid understanding of how the sentencing process actually works in Canadian criminal cases. Students should understand and be able to critically analyze the basis upon which sentences are imposed, and feel confident to argue in favour of or against a given sentence.

TEACHING METHOD - Primarily a seminar style with class discussions.

MATERIALS USED:

Required Text 1- A. Manson, The Law of Sentencing (Toronto, Ont.: Irwin Law, 2001)
 2- Course Pack

Optional Text 1- Criminal Code of Canada

Additional material may be distributed in class.

METHOD OF EVALUATION – All components must be completed in order to pass this course

The final grade for the course will be based on the following components:

1. Student Presentation & Handout (30%)
 - Individually or in groups of two, students will select a sentencing topic to present to the class.
 - Presentations should last about 45 minutes and should review the topic selected for the class while also initiating discussion of critical sentencing issues related to the topic.
 - Students must also prepare a handout for their classmates in attendance. The handout should be provided at the beginning of the presentation.
 - The presentation and handout will be graded according to three factors:
 - (a) Demonstration of the student's understanding of the topic (40%),
 - (b) Ability to identify and initiate discussion on critical sentencing issues related to the topic (40%), and
 - (c) Style of presentation (20%).
 2. Peer Evaluation (10%)
 - Students will grade their fellow classmates on the student presentations.
 - There will be a form for students to complete after each student presentation.
 3. Participation (10%)
 - Student grades will incorporate recognition of attendance at class, participation in class discussions, and completion of the peer evaluation forms.
 - As this is a seminar style class, student participation is an essential element of the learning process.
 4. Final Exam (50%)
 - 2-hour closed book examination.
 - Exam will be based on assigned readings, class lectures, and class presentations from throughout the full term.
 - Exam will represent a combination of multiple choice, short answer, and long answer questions.
