

LAWS 5006 F Historical Perspectives on Law and SocietyProfessor Barry Wright*Term: Fall 2011-12*Time: Mondays 11:30 - 2:30*Contact: D 591 LA 520-2600 ext. 3681
b_wright@carleton.ca
Office Hours: Thursdays, 3:00-6:00*COURSE OBJECTIVES:

The course examines selected legal issues in British and Canadian history. It begins by reviewing the utility of historical forms of knowledge and methodologies within interdisciplinary legal studies projects and the developing interest in law amongst historians and social and political theorists. Issues and interpretations in selected areas of criminal, public and private law are surveyed. The objective is to provide an advanced overview of legal historical scholarship and key debates within the field. The course does not purport to provide a comprehensive examination of the diverse existing scholarship of this growing field but more modestly aims to provide a good jumping off point for further advanced research according to individual interests.

COURSE ORGANIZATION:

Seminar style discussion and presentations. Students are expected to complete assigned readings and participate actively in class discussion.

Course Evaluation:

Class Participation:	10%
Presentation:	10% (November, on essay topic, 20 minutes)
Research Essay:	80% (topic selected by 31 October, due 12 December)

Administrative Notes:

Late essays will be marked down one half letter grade for each day submitted after the due date. Essays must be submitted to me or to the Department of Law (C473 LA) by 4:00 pm on the due date. Essays must be typed or wordprocessed in hardcopy (disk files or email attachments will not be accepted). Please retain a photocopy or secure file copy of the submitted essay. Please also note University regulations on academic integrity and academic offences as set out in the Graduate Calendar.
