Course description

In this course we will examine debates concerning the role of the state, groups and individual in world politics. Together we will explore the International Relations, Political Theory, Public Policy and Canadian Politics subfields in Political Science. Students will familiarize themselves with the theoretical tools to navigate complex debates in politics. Students are compelled to raise their consciousness of global politics and apply their knowledge to research, advocacy, policy-making, action and change. My hope is that you find this course engaging and that you successfully complete this course with theoretical and analytical tools that you will employ in your future endeavors.

Learning Outcomes

- Students are challenged to understand the foundations of international relations and apply this globally.
- Students are compelled to develop their ability to engage in academic writing and research.

Core Questions & Themes

These are the core questions and overarching themes we will explore throughout the course.

Is there a trade off between freedom and security?

Is the nation-state the optimal way to organize society politically?

What are the paradoxes of the nation-state in terms of security and peace?

Required Texts

Required Texts are available at The Carleton Bookstore

- Mingst, Karen A. & Ivan M. Arreguin-Toft, Essentials of International Relations (IR), 6th Edition, (Toronto: W.W. Norton, 2013).
- Mingst, Karen A. & Jack L. Snyder, Essential Readings in World Politics, 5th Edition, (Toronto: W.W. Norton, 2013).

Essentials of IR is available at Course Smart <http://goo.gl/tDgxPx>

Teaching Approach and Course Format

This course takes advantage of both in-class and online components to enhance the learning experience. Students should pay special attention to the Assignment Due Date Matrix below, which clearly delineates assignment due dates and mark weight. The course is arranged by week on cuLearn. When you click on a week, you will find the assignments for the week as well as a detailed description of assignment requirements.

*In-depth description of assignment requirements can be found on cuLearn in the assignment submission areas, in the Syllabus – Extended Version document or in the Course Basics document. All aforementioned documents can be found in the Course Basics section of cu Learn.

Assignment Due Date Matrix

Assignment	Date	Share of Term Mark	Notes
Syllabus Scavenger Hunt	July 4 th	2%
Map Quiz	July 14 th	5%
Blogs	July 9 th July 16 th July 23 rd July 30 th	56%	5 assignments worth 14% each. There are 5 assignments due. Your best 4 results will count toward your final mark. Your worst mark will be eliminated. Use My PSCI Blog Format to easily create your blogs.
In Class Feedback	July 21 st	2%	Answer the feedback questions on cuLearn
In Class Quiz	August 6th	35%	Short Answer = 3.5% each Long Answer = 14% each

*Blog and Video Quiz assignments will only be marked if you have attended the class for the day of the assignment is due. If you have not attended the mark with automatically be 0. Attendance will be taken. If you have not attended class for medical or family emergency reasons then you may do a 4 page essay on themes from the readings in addition to the assignment.

For the Lecture and Discussion Group Reading Schedule Click Here

CuLearn

All of your written assignments are due via CuLearn drop boxes. The syllabus and other relevant documents are also posted on CuLearn. Do not submit your assignments via email. The course is arranged by week on cuLearn. When you click on a week, you will find the assignments for the week as well as any materials associated with it.

Social Media

There is a Facebook page and a Twitter page for the course and you should join either one and make a habit of checking either one frequently. Beyond a requirement for some assignments, I regularly post articles relevant to the course and tips for students. Facebook – Socially Scientific. Twitter - @sociallysci (Socially Scientific).

*If you prefer not to join the class Facebook or Twitter, a 6-page essay can be done in lieu of the Facebook/Twitter components for each assignment. The rest of the assignment must be done in full. The 6 page essay is a replacement for the social media portions of assignments only.

Class Expectations

Students are expected to (1) attend class having completed the assigned readings and (2) come prepared for thoughtful discussions. Students are kindly asked to be respectful during lectures by not conversing with their neighbours. Students who are conducting their own conversations during lectures will be asked to stop and/or leave. Students are expected to complete their online requirements by the due date.

Late Assignments

All written assignments are due in the appropriate CuLearn drop boxes. Late assignments will be marked as a 0. Exceptions to this late assignment policy will be considered for medical reasons or a family emergency (with appropriate documentation). Please approach me to discuss any accessibility accommodations that you may require.

Accommodations

Please approach me to discuss accessibility or related accommodations that you may require. The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term.

Appeals

If you would like reconsideration of an assignment grade, you must provide a two page written explanation of why you believe the grade was incorrect. All requests of this type will be considered, but this may mean that your grade could be lowered. No reconsiderations will be handled without following this procedure. Final course grades are not negotiable and grades do not "round up." Grades will be changed only if there is a calculation or other technical error.

Course Format Details

Readings/ Learning Materials

Each week there are required readings. Readings should be completed prior to the first class for that week. If there is more than one class noted for a number of readings, all of the readings should be completed prior to the first class. Where there is a distinction between "Required Readings: Big Picture" and "Required Readings: In-Depth." "Big Picture" readings are required for the lecture and "In-Depth" readings will be required for the discussion group as well as for the "Discuss the Readings" portion of your blog assignments. Readings are required to ensure familiarity with key ideas and concepts in the discipline.

Assignments

Syllabus Scavenger Hunt

Since this course may have many features that you have not yet encountered in your classes, I've included a syllabus scavenger hunt, to ensure that students are very familiar with requirements.

Find the correct answers to these questions and win the scavenger hunt!

1. Under what subheading and on what page of the syllabus would I find a comprehensive list of assignments and due dates?
2. What are two main differences between the Blog and the Video Quiz?
3. What are the 3 parts of the Blog assignment and what kind of knowledge does this assignment try to combine?
4. What part of the blog post do I post to Socially Scientific?
5. Do I have to attend class for my Blogs and discussion groups to be marked?
6. Under what subheading do I find the reading materials for each week?

Map Quiz

Since we are discussing world politics it is important that students are familiar with the countries of the world and their capital cities where political decisions are often made. The goal of this assignment is to ensure familiarity with countries and capitals of the world. Students must know all of the countries and capitals.

In Class Map Quiz

Be prepared to take the map quiz in-class on the due date. Students will be handed a package of blank maps (the ones below). Students will be provided with the names of 10 countries and 10 capital cities. Students will only fill in the names of the 10 countries and 10 capital cities that are asked for in the quiz and will place the names in the corresponding numbers listed below the maps on the following blank maps.

Below are blank maps that will be used for the in-class map quiz:

Africa	http://www.worldatlas.com/webimage/testmaps/africa.gif
Asia	http://www.worldatlas.com/webimage/testmaps/asia.gif
Europe	http://www.worldatlas.com/webimage/testmaps/europe.gif
Middle East	http://www.worldatlas.com/webimage/testmaps/mideast.gif
South America	http://www.worldatlas.com/webimage/testmaps/samer.gif

My PSCI Blog

My PSCI Blog posts will serve as tools to ensure students achieve the highest possible benefit from the readings and lectures and are prepared for exams. These assignments help students focus on how to write a succinct thesis, a key skill required for future success. These assignments also help students synthesize ideas for the final exam.

Why this Assignment?

- More questions = more learning. Thoughtful and reflective questions about what we discuss and what we read is the goal of this course, indeed it is the goal of higher education.
- It is a way to combine our exploration of political phenomena and ideas from scholarly works, in-class discussion/activities, and current events.
- Students have concise and condensed notes on the readings and discussions that provides them with excellent study materials for the final exam.
- Blog posts will serve as tools to ensure students achieve the highest possible benefit from the readings, lectures and discussion groups and are prepared for exams.
- These assignments help students focus on how to write a succinct thesis, a key skill required for future success.
- In the blog post students will address issues of importance that were - addressed in the in-class section the week before. This ensures that students attended the in-class section and that they took notes.

- The blog post also asks students to comment on issues of importance of the reading for the date the blog post is due; that is the day of the on-line component.
 - The blog post also asks students to share online through social media a media post that relates to issues discussed in the readings and lectures.

How to do this Assignment?

You must attend the class for the My PSCI Blog Posts to be graded.

Attendance will be noted. If you do not attend class the assignment will not be marked. If you miss the class, even for unforeseen reasons, you may hand in a 4-page, double-spaced paper in addition to the assignment within a week of the due date. The paper will be an extension of your discussion of the readings for that Blog Post assignment. If you do not hand it in by that time, your mark will remain 0.

The assignments are due via CuLearn at 11:55pm on the due date. The submission spaces will be entitled #1 Blog, #2 Blog.

There is a template provided below, you can choose to use the template or not to use it. What is important is that you have the format that is provided below.

There are 4 assignments due but only the 3 highest marks out of the 3 assignments will count toward your final mark. Your worst mark will be eliminated. This is an opportunity to get your best work recognized.

To organize your Blog Post you can cut and paste the My PSCI Blog Format provided below for each post into your own word document and fill in the material required.

My PSCI Blog Post Format

Part I- Lecture/Tutorial Discussion

For the discussion component you will discuss what we talked about in the lecture and/or tutorial group in the class before the due date.

For this part of the assignment you will identify and describe two ideas/concepts/issues dealt with in class (lecture or discussion group) that attracted interest and explain why. Anything we discuss that piques your interest can be used for this part of the assignment be it something like realism vs. liberal internationalism or the difference between a Quarter Pounder with cheese and a Royale with cheese. It all depends on what we discuss.

15-20 sentences

Part II- Discuss Readings

For the discuss the readings component you will write about the readings for the day the assignment is due.

Provide a brief reaction to one of the in depth readings for the due date. As part of this, using your own words, tell me the main point (thesis) of the reading. Describe an idea or issue developed in the article that intrigues you and that you would like to discuss further in class. Create 2 questions that relate to the article and larger issues discussed in the class.

15-20 sentences

Part III- Social Media

1. Post 2 media items (articles, radio or video clips) that relate to issues discussed during this class or in the readings. You should post to the class Facebook – Socially Scientific Twitter - @sociallysci . The idea is that you share resources that you have found to be useful in your explorations of the topics discussed in class. Explain why each link you post enhances your understanding of the topic discussed in class.

Ensure that your posts are not offensive or explicit, but rather that they contribute to respectful and engaging collegial dialogue.

Ensure that your posts are well organized, visually pleasing (i.e. nicely formatted) and do not include your student number on the social media post.

2-3 sentences for each posting

* Do not post your whole assignment on onto Facebook or Twitter. However, include the link and text of your post in the assignment you hand into CuLearn.

2. For your cuLean submission cite and comment on a link posted by anyone else (from any class or even the prof.) on Socially Scientific that you found interesting. If you choose you can post this commentary online.

2-3 sentences

* Do not post your whole assignment on onto Facebook or Twitter.

Course Feedback

This is an opportunity for you to let me know what concepts intrigue you and what you want to learn more about.

Students will answer the following questions with 1-3 sentences for each question:

1. What is the most significant thing you learned in today's class?
2. What question is at the top of your mind at the end of today's class?

3. What have you enjoyed learning about most in the class so far this term?
4. What would you like to discuss more in-depth as we continue the course?
5. What aspects of the syllabus, assignments or assignment structure work well for you and what would you recommend changing?

In Class Quiz

The In Class Quiz will be based on a combination of what we have discussed in lectures, the work you have done in assignments as well as reading materials.

The format will be:

2 Short Answers worth 3.5% each.

Essay Answer, 2 essays worth 14% each

Students will have a choice of 2 questions to answer out of 4

There will be no make-up quiz

Assignment Evaluation Considerations

Below is a table and list of questions used to evaluate each assignment. Keep this in mind when writing your assignments.

Thesis & Explanation of subject - 70%
A clear idea/thesis is forwarded for each question asked.
Identification and explanation of main points.
Use of Scholarly Literature - 25%
Scholarly literature is employed to strengthen arguments.
Definitions and terms should be used properly.

Jargon should be kept to a minimum.
Structure of Assignment - 5%
Answer the questions being asked.
The assignment is an appropriate length.
The assignment employs proper grammar.

These questions are utilized to assess written assignments

- Is there a clear idea/thesis forwarded in response to each question asked in an assignment?
- Are main points identified and explained?
- Are supporting statements focused, relevant and illuminating?
- Strong arguments are focused and develop a particular point?
- Does my answer utilize scholarly arguments and literature?
- Does my answer address counter arguments?
- Is my assignment too descriptive? (avoid this)
- Are ideas being stated as self-evident? (avoid this)
- Do my answers flow, are they well organized?
- Am I utilizing proper grammar?

Academic Accommodations

The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

For Religious Observance: Students requesting accommodation for religious observances should apply in writing to their instructor for alternate dates and/or means of satisfying academic requirements. Such requests should be made during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist, but no later than two weeks before the compulsory academic event. Accommodation is to be worked out directly and on an individual basis between the student and the instructor(s) involved. Instructors will make accommodations in a way that avoids academic disadvantage to the student. Instructors and students may contact an Equity Services Advisor for assistance (www.carleton.ca/equity).

For Pregnancy: Pregnant students requiring academic accommodations are encouraged to contact an Equity Advisor in Equity Services to complete a letter of accommodation. Then, make an appointment to discuss your needs with the instructor at least two weeks prior to the first academic event in which it is anticipated the accommodation will be required.

Plagiarism: The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in "substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.

Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They may include a mark of zero for the plagiarized work or a final grade of "F" for the course.

Submission and Return of Term Work: Papers must be submitted directly to the instructor according to the instructions in the course outline and will not be date-stamped in the departmental office. Late assignments may be submitted to the drop box in the corridor outside B640 Loeb. Assignments will be retrieved every business day at 4 p.m., stamped with that day’s date, and then distributed to the instructor. For essays not returned in class please attach a stamped, self-addressed envelope if you wish to have your assignment returned by mail. Final exams are intended solely for the purpose of evaluation and will not be returned.

Grading: Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor, subject to the approval of the faculty Dean. Final standing in courses will be shown by alphabetical grades. The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points is:

Percentage	Letter grade	12-point scale	Percentage	Letter grade	12-point scale
90-100	A+	12	67-69	C+	6
85-89	A	11	63-66	C	5
80-84	A-	10	60-62	C-	4
77-79	B+	9	57-59	D+	3
73-76	B	8	53-56	D	2
70-72	B-	7	50-52	D-	1

Approval of final grades: Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by an instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean.

Carleton E-mail Accounts: All email communication to students from the Department of Political Science will be via official Carleton university e-mail accounts and/or cuLearn. As important course and University information is distributed this way, it is the student's responsibility to monitor their Carleton and cuLearn accounts.

Carleton Political Science Society: The Carleton Political Science Society (CPSS) has made its mission to provide a social environment for politically inclined students and faculty. Holding social events, debates, and panel discussions, CPSS aims to involve all political science students at Carleton University. Our mandate is to arrange social and academic activities in order to instill a sense of belonging within the Department and the larger University community. Members can benefit through numerous opportunities which will complement both academic and social life at Carleton University. To find out more, visit <https://www.facebook.com/groups/politicalsciencesociety/> or come to our office in Loeb D688.

Official Course Outline: The course outline posted to the Political Science website is the official course outline.
