

Building a community with homes for all

A researcher-community networking event hosted by the Alliance to End Homelessness

Attention Researchers: Please join us for a night of networking and entertainment with Ottawa area community agencies who are members of the Alliance to End Homelessness. The Alliance brings together over 50 local organizations - each working daily to address homelessness and improve housing outcomes - with concerned community members and persons with lived experience, to facilitate and encourage a community-wide effort towards the prevention and ending of homelessness in Ottawa.

By attending this event, researchers will have the opportunity to network with members of the Alliance, and with other researchers addressing shared interests. Our goal in organizing this event is to encourage and cultivate new researcher-community partnerships, and to nurture and strengthen existing ones, in order to contribute to the collaborative effort to prevent and end homelessness in Ottawa.

The event will include local musical entertainment by three sure-to-impress acts: Juno-award-winning and multi-talented Jesse Stewart; Ottawa Salus Corporation's rock and roll group the Big Bucket Band, formed through a mutual interest in musical experimentation and expression on individual journeys towards recovery; and Kwesi, DJ and member of the youth liaison team for the Alliance's A Way Home Ottawa project.

Thursday, April 21st, 7 pm

Beer, cider, and wine will be available for purchase.

Location: Pressed, 750 Gladstone Ave, Ottawa, ON K1R 6X5

In order to RSVP for this event, please visit eventbrite.com and search the title of the event, "Building a community with homes for all: a researcher-community networking event"

For further information please contact info@endhomelessnessottawa.ca or 613-241-1573 x 314

Hosted by the Alliance to End Homelessness, with the generous support of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, Carleton University

Broad Research Interests:

- Housing, Homelessness and Health
- Affordable and Social Housing
- Homelessness and Housing Insecurity, with attention to priority populations including (but not limited to): youth, Indigenous people, families, older adults, newcomers (including refugees), Individuals experiencing chronic homelessness, victims of domestic violence, veterans
- Mental Health and Addictions
- Intersections of Homelessness and Housing Insecurity with public systems of care, including (but not limited to): child welfare, corrections, health, immigration, justice, policing
- Eviction Prevention
- Social Determinants of Health
- Communications and Advocacy Strategies
- Participatory Research
- Urban Planning and Social Infrastructure
- Social Services and System Integration
- Social Inclusion
- Rooming Houses
- Hoarding

L' Alliance
pour mettre un term à l'itinérance

Alliance
to End Homelessness
Ottawa

Carleton
UNIVERSITY