

KUFFOUR: PLEASE BE A STRONG PRESIDENT

By

Daniel Tetteh Osabu-Kle

The most tolerant nation in Africa is Ghana where even a Scottish bastard can be allowed to be a President for well over twenty years! The first lesson Ghanaians should learn is that tolerance must have limits. Where did tolerance without limits lead President Limann? The second lesson Ghanaians must learn is that tolerance must be exercised on those who deserve it. Placing one's neck tolerantly in the hands a murderer is no virtue.

Ghana has been overly tolerant with Juloiatse Jimifo Rawlings, the Scottish bastard and imperialist plant who has no respect for Ghanaian life. Air Marshall Boakye was so tolerant with Rawlings that he accepted that bastard in the Ghana Air Force. Although Rawlings was such a bad pilot that he forgot how to land the Macchi and landed one on its belly to reduce it to a scrap, still Boakye tolerated him. The degree of tolerance of Boakye was such that when Rawlings successively could not pass his promotion exams, he, the bad pilot, was rather sent on an instructors course in Pakistan as a consolation for his juniors becoming his seniors. Fortunately for Ghana, the course did not come on as scheduled and Rawlings had to return to the country. How can such an incompetent pilot be an effective instructor? However, being the Juloiatse he is, Rawlings quickly squandered the foreign currency he should have returned. Again, tolerance was exercised. Instead of Rawlings being dismissed for indiscipline, the amount was to be deducted in bits every month. At least, Rawlings should have been thankful, but was he? He began to lie to the junior ranks of how the senior officers, Majors and above, lived in luxury while he had been reduced to a pauper. With the help of imperialist forces who desired the destruction of General Acheampong for his just repudiation of Ghana's debts, he began to organize the other ranks for a coup.

When he succeeded in coming to power in 1979, he had General Acheampong executed to please the imperialists and proceeded to eliminate other senior officers according to the whims and rascality of his frenzied followers. Officers who, in honest discharge of their duties, were disciplinarians were picked for the slaughter. The first among these disciplinarians to be slaughtered was General Odartey Wellington, the second was General Akuffo and the third was General Kotei. General Kotei, in particular, had even won internationally-enviable gold medals for Ghana before but the ungrateful Rawlings cared little about that. But most shockingly, Rawlings had Air Marshall Boakye who had protected him all along executed. Given that Rawlings is a Scottish bastard, his un-Ghanaian and ungrateful attitude is not surprising. It is part of his nature as a European bastard. This is confirmed by the later event that, although Limann treated him very kindly and well as a former head of state, he planned and overthrew that peace-loving President. But that did not stop there. Rawlings refused to treat General Ankrah, General Afrifa, General Acheampong, General Akuffo, and Dr. Limann as former head of state. With the exception of General Ankrah, he killed the other Generals. He reduced Limann to a pauper who died later in abject poverty. He freely concocted lies to destroy many Ghanaians he identified as being patriotic. With the help of his imperialist masters, he systematically eliminated patriotic Ghanaians who made the mistake of confiding in those imperialists. J. H. Mensah was lucky that imperialism betrayed him but was not all that interested in his biological liquidation. However, the example of J.H. Mensah's betrayal provides us with the wisdom that imperialism can never be trusted no matter how sweet its words may be.

Despite all these pieces of bitter experience, Ghanaians are still tolerant enough to treat that Scottish bastard as a former head of state. What a hell! The Scottish bastard goes about making a lot of noise. His big mouth must be closed, and only a strong President can do that. Absolutely, he does not deserve any respect as a former head of state. His recent series of impudence confirm that. Why should he deserve what he denied others! He thinks Ghanaians are a pack of fools!

Rawlings established Citizens Vetting Committee and a Peoples Court. The Citizens Vetting Committee turned out to be Citizens Victimization Committee and the Peoples Court turned out to be Peoples Condemnation. Innocent people were condemned to death in accordance with the whims and rascality of Agyekum, the uncle of Rawlings wife. This explains why Rawlings and his gang of thieves are so scared of accountability and call it witch-hunting. The only time witch-hunting occurred in the history of Ghana was when Rawlings, the Scottish bastard, became the head of state. Kuffour, being a true son of Ghana and no bastard cannot be a witch-hunter but that does not mean that accountability should be suffocated. Ghanaians want to know how the same people who condemned so many Ghanaians to death became so fabulously rich. Should such criminals get away with their booty? Certainly no! But how can we bring them to justice? It is by the hand of a strong President who will apply the rules of accountability without fear or favour. Fellow Ghanaians! Kuffour is a true Ghanaian who is not interested in any form of vindictiveness. He is after accountability, and accountability is a must. Without accountability, there is no law and Ghana is finished.

Ghana was so tolerant that a Scottish bastard arrogated to himself the right to deprive fellow Ghanaians of their right to be Ghanaians. What a nonsense! Such a miracle can only occur in Ghana. I congratulate President Kuffour for reversing that nonsense. It is a sure proof that he cares for all Ghanaians no matter where they are. But he must be prepared to make stronger decisions than this. One reason why I respect Nigerians despite their many mistakes is that such a stupid miracle of a European bastard depriving Nigerians of their citizenship cannot just happen there. In the first place, a Scottish bastard can never be the head of state of Nigeria! Ghana should also ensure that such a stupid miracle is never repeated! Ghana is for Ghanaians and not for European bastards! For this reason, the Ghana Armed Forces should immediately be purged of all European bastards. While such people can work in Ghana, they should never be allowed to join the Ghana Armed Forces, the Police or the Prison Services.

In addition, to ensure democratization of militancy, and, thereby, tame the military tiger, all regions of Ghana should be represented equally in the Ghana Armed Forces. To further improve democratization of militancy, the national service for students should be revised to include principally military training for all secondary school, college and university graduates. This will ensure that if a crook announces on the radio that he has seized power, hundreds of thousands shall oppose and resist him. Additionally, it will ensure that the energies of the Ghana Armed Forces are directed towards the enemy from outside. At the same time, the enemy from outside, seeing the power of democratization of militancy in Ghana will think several times before attempting any act of aggression. In this modern world, it is a sin to be weak.

I would like to draw the attention of President Kuffuor to the fact that coup plots are generally known to the military intelligence. What makes the coups successful is the delay in informing the government for appropriate action to be taken. The military intelligence delays too much! That military intelligence should, therefore, report directly to the office of the President. Nkrumah's Preventive Detention Act was essentially good but it was misused by the politicians around him. If necessary, it should be invoked with due amendment and the provision that it is to be applied only by a respectable and non-politicized committee, after the facts have been carefully analyzed, in the interest of national security and to keep notorious criminals in check. In most cases, the notorious criminals are known to the public, but for fear of being betrayed by the law enforcement bodies, the public keeps its mouths shut. Because Ghana's intelligence is not developed to the stage where it can prove all acts against the security of the state or the security of people, preventative measures are justified.
