Student Activism in Canada and South Africa: Discussing The Art of Fallism

Join the virtual discussion of the South African/Norwegian documentary, The Art of Fallism (2019), that teases out the nuanced, yet deeply complex stories of the student struggles in South Africa built around #RhodesMustFall and #FeesMustFall. These reawakened a vibrant history of South African student protest movements and propelled political art practices, under the banner of "Fallism," to push the limits of critical thought. Join us in a lively discussion of the film itself with the film producers and a group Carleton University student activists and leaders who will discuss the film's resonances and dissonances on current student struggles in Canada.
