Established in 1982 to help fund student study trips, the Friends of Art History’s role has expanded to include:
- the acquisition of books and periodicals for the Carleton University Library
- the donation of funds and works of art to the Carleton University Art Gallery
- the Odyssey Scholarship which annually provides travel funds for an undergraduate and graduate student in Art History
- and most recently, the Friends of Art History Book Award which is presented annually to a graduate student enrolled in the Master of Arts program in Canadian Art History

Since 1982, scores of distinguished art and cultural historians, curators, art dealers and artists have given lectures at Friends meetings. Several lectures are scheduled each year and they are open to all. Anyone with an interest in art history is welcome to join the Friends’ membership. For more information, visit the Friends’ website:

While many of the Friends have been most generous, giving between thirty and one hundred dollars annually, membership fees are not fixed. To encourage participation by young undergraduate students, the minimum annual membership fee is five dollars. It is hoped that this policy will encourage new memberships over time. Your generosity helps the Friends to maintain and expand its role with the School. Donations are tax deductible and cheques should be made payable to Carleton University.
