Course Description

GINS 3010 is an advanced undergraduate course which employs critical theory approaches to understanding ‘the global’ and ‘the international.’ We will examine the development of a range of influential theoretical perspectives and schools, key scholars associated with these approaches, and the utility of theory in helping to understand our complex social world(s).

Format: One 2-hour lecture per week, plus one hour-long discussion group per week.

Objectives: By the end of the course students will be able to:

1. Describe the historical development of several influential theories related to global and international studies;
2. Explain key schools of thought through multiple disciplinary perspectives, and identify the main scholars and texts associated with each school;
3. Apply theoretical frameworks to cogent written and oral analyses of issues in global and international studies.

Required Texts

This course requires the following texts. Please avoid purchasing the incorrect editions. Texts are available at the Carleton University Bookstore or can be purchased online at major retailers. You are welcome to purchase e-editions if available, and used copies should be readily available at the bookstore:

• Additional readings will be posted on the course website or available through ARES.

You are responsible for checking the course website regularly and reading, watching, and/or listening to all material listed for each week. Occasionally, I will post articles or links that are course-related and informative. For the intellectually adventurous I will happily provide more challenging readings – just ask.

Assignments, Evaluation, and Grading

(I) Participation and Reading Responses (15%) - ongoing

• Attendance is expected and will be taken, in lecture and in discussion groups (tutorials). The participation grade will reflect the extent to which students contribute to class discussions in an informed and critical manner. Participants are expected to arrive each week having completed the readings, prepared or answered the discussion questions (as applicable), and equipped to discuss the material.

• Each participant will also write three 1-2 page response papers (one paper/month).

• Absences and weak and/or limited participation will result in a diminished final grade. Due to the nature of this course there are no ‘make-up’ opportunities for lost participation marks. you are unavoidably prevented from attending class, please let the Instructor know as soon as possible (note: official documentation may be required).

(II) In-Class Tests x 2 @ 20% (40% total)

• Test 1 – Week 6, Test 2 – Week 9

• The tests will address the theoretical perspectives, readings, and lecture material covered in the up to the test date.

• If you require accommodations from the PMC the final date to notify the Instructor is February 1, 2018.

(III) From Theory to Action: Engagement Paper/Project* (45%) – Friday, March 29

How can critical theories be used to address and/or analyze current events? Can they help us make sense of our global world? Can they be mobilized to produce change?
• Utilizing a theoretical perspective presented in weeks 2-10, students will analyze a recent current issue and/or event, and propose an engagement or activist project to address this issue.

Grading: Final standing in courses will be shown by alphabetical grades. The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points is:

Academic Accommodations

Learning difficulties and/or impairments: The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact the PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

Religious observance: Students requesting accommodation for religious observances should apply in writing to their instructor for alternate dates and/or means of satisfying academic requirements. Such requests should be made during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist, but no later than two weeks before the compulsory academic event. Accommodation is to be worked out directly and on an individual basis between the student and the instructor(s) involved. Instructors will make accommodations in a way that avoids academic disadvantage to the student. Instructors and students may contact an Equity Services Advisor for assistance (www.carleton.ca/equity).

Pregnancy: Pregnant students requiring academic accommodations are encouraged to contact an Equity Services Advisor in Equity Services to complete a Letter of Accommodation. Then, make an appointment to discuss your needs with the instructor at least two weeks prior to the first academic event in which it is anticipated the accommodation will be required.

Academic Integrity

The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:
• reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
• submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
• using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
• using another’s data or research findings;
• failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
• handing in “substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.”

• Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They may include a mark of zero for the plagiarized work or a final grade of "F" for the course.

Intellectual Property

• Student or professor materials created for this course (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the author(s). They are intended for personal use and may not be reproduced or redistributed without prior written consent of the author(s). I maintain the copyright to all course materials; they may not be posted, uploaded, transferred, or sold without my express written consent in advance.

Course Communications

• All email communication to students from BGInS will be via official Carleton university e-mail accounts and/or CULearn. As important course and University information is distributed this way, it is the student’s responsibility to monitor their Carleton and CULearn accounts. Please note that “I didn’t check my email” will never be a valid excuse. A respectful tone is expected in all e-communication. Students can generally expect an e-mail response within 48 hours, weekends and holidays excepted.

Medical Certificates & Illness
In the unfortunate case of illness or injury, only a Medical Certificate signed by a licensed physician and indicating that treatment/counsel was sought on the day of the missed class, assignment or examination, will be accepted. Please note: “Doctors notes may not always be issued for the following reasons:

- Missed classes/labs except in extenuating circumstances.
- Minor illnesses (e.g. colds, flu).
- Past illnesses that have been resolved and that there is no documentation for.
- Obvious injuries (e.g. broken bone in a cast).”

Course Conduct

In this course informed and critical discussion of complex and contentious issues is the central component of the learning experience. Thus, all participants are expected to arrive on-time, prepared to conduct themselves with decorum and civility, and to actively contribute to an atmosphere of scholarly inquiry and mutual respect. While spirited discussion and disagreement are encouraged, rudeness, combativeness, and disruption are not.

Please refrain from conducting non-course-related activities during class time (i.e., social media, chats, games, constant texting, and the like). Electronic and/or digital devices (including mobile devices) which impede or hamper the class discussion will not be tolerated. Unacceptable conduct includes, but is not limited to, discrimination or harassment, threatening, stalking, and unwelcome communication either in person or through electronic or other means. I reserve the right to remove disruptive elements (including devices and persons) from the classroom.
