

Academic Unit:	Kroeger College of Public Affairs
Field of Specialization:	Global and International Projects
Rank/Position Title:	Fellow in Residence
Start Date:	September 1, 2018
Closing Date:	Consideration of complete applications will begin on February 15, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

About the Position:

The Bachelor of Global and International Studies (BGIInS) program at Carleton University invites applications for a Fellow in Residence position. The program is interested in candidates working on projects of global and international significance. The successful candidate is expected to be in residence in Ottawa, Canada and take the award during Carleton’s 2018/19 academic year. The appointment will involve delivering one public lecture, teaching one course per semester, and engaging with BGIInS students, including during weekly office hours. In the Fall 2018 semester, the Fellow is expected to teach an introductory lecture course, either International Law and Politics (GINS 1010) or Globalization and International Economic Issues (GINS 2010). In the Winter 2019 semester, the Fellow is expected to teach a fourth year honours seminar in the area of their expertise. The Fellow in Residence award is CAN $20,000. During the term of the award, the Fellow will be appointed as a Visiting Scholar under Carleton’s policy on visiting appointments.

About the Academic Unit:

Launched in 2015, the BGIInS program is an interdisciplinary program jointly sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences and the Faculty of Public Affairs. It is housed administratively in the Arthur Kroeger College of Public Affairs. Over 120 Carleton faculty members, from 19 different academic units, are affiliated with the program. The BGIInS program is unique in Canada in that it offers students and faculty a comprehensive multi- and inter-disciplinary space for teaching, learning, research and policy engagement on issues related to globalization in our contemporary period. For more information on BGIInS, please consult the program website: <https://carleton.ca/bgins/> .

Qualifications:

The applicant should have an impressive record of public policy engagement in the broad field of global and international studies, ranging from work in the public service, diplomacy, policy research arena, civil society advocacy, development, international litigation, or security services.

Application Instructions:

Applications should be sent electronically in one PDF file and should include a cover letter, full resume or curriculum vitae, an indication of which of the two named lecture courses the candidate is qualified to teach in the fall, and a short description of the proposed honours seminar that the candidate would teach in the winter. Applications should also include a list of three confidential referees. Please send to the attention of Professor Chris Brown, Program Director, Bachelor of Global and International Studies. Please submit applications via email to jenelle.williams@carleton.ca. Consideration of complete applications will begin on February 15, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

About Carleton University:

Carleton University is a dynamic and innovative research and teaching institution with a national and international reputation as a leader in collaborative teaching and learning, research and governance. With over 29,000 students, 950 academic faculty, and 2,000 staff and more than 100 programs of study, we encourage creative risk-taking enabling minds to connect, discover and generate transformative knowledge. Located in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada's capital city has a population of almost one million and reflects the country's bilingual and multicultural character. Carleton's location in the nation's capital provides many opportunities for scholarship and research with groups and institutions that reflect the diversity of the country. To learn more about our university and the City of Ottawa, please visit www.carleton.ca/provost.

Carleton University is committed to fostering diversity within its community as a source of excellence, cultural enrichment, and social strength. We welcome those who would contribute to the further diversification of our university including, but not limited to: women; visible minorities; First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples; persons with disabilities; and persons of any sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression. Carleton understands that career paths vary. Legitimate career interruptions will in no way prejudice the assessment process and their impact will be taken into careful consideration.

Applicants selected for an interview are asked to contact the Program Director as soon as possible to discuss any accommodation requirements. Arrangements will be made in a timely manner.

All positions are subject to budgetary approval.