Lectures

Wednesday and Friday 2:35-3:55 (PA 303)

Seminars

Thursday 8:35-9:55 & 10:05-11:25

In this course we will examine major literary, cultural, and artistic developments from the late fourteenth to the early nineteenth century. In the first semester, we will examine scholars and artists who sought to contribute to the “rebirth” of European culture, and who struggled to put new aesthetic and cultural ideals into practice in a range of challenging and shifting socio-political environments. We will also consider how religious “reformers” attacked core aspects of late mediaeval culture and promoted new artistic and cultural practices and forms. Throughout this term we will pay close attention to the way secular and religious thinkers attempted to reach back, beyond the immediate past, to an ancient authority that provided more certainty than anything offered in the world in which they lived. The result was a synthesis in which the modern individual became increasingly important, but it was a volatile synthesis intellectually, politically, and spiritually. The fall semester concludes with art, politics and the individual keenly aware of the newly contingent status of tradition, authority and culture. In the second term, we will examine how the concepts of the artist, the imagination, and spectacle were transformed by the emergence of early capitalism, the development of copyright laws, the rise of middle-class consumerism, secularism, and the political and aesthetic “revolutions” associated with the Enlightenment and Counter-Enlightenment.

In sum, over the course of the year students will develop a deep understanding of the way early modern thinkers described the essence, function, and challenges of the artist, scholar, or cultural critic and the way these concepts developed in response to economic, religious, political, and technological changes.

Assignments and Grading:

1) Two written papers, each of 2500 words. One paper is due in the fall term and one in the winter term. The fall term paper is due at the lecture of December 7th (without the workshop) or on December 8th at 4:00pm (with the workshop). The winter term paper is due March 15 (without the workshop) or March 16 at 4:00 (with the workshop). They are each worth 20% for a total of 40% of the final grade. You MAY NOT submit both papers to the same professor. Students are expected to research and develop theses of their own devising. Research and thesis expectations will be outlined in lectures and at the library research session. There are deadlines for topics and for annotated bibliographies. Please see the outline for details.

2) Two seminar presentations. You will be required to make one presentation (10 min) in each term and this presentation should contain a clear argument about the primary text. An abstract (150-200 words) of the presentation must be submitted on the day of the presentation. Late abstracts will not be accepted and you will receive a grade of F for your presentation. 10% (5% each). You may not deliver your two presentations to the same professor.

3) A Winter Mid-term (3 hours) 10%

4) A Fall Mid-Term 10 %

5) A Final Exam 20%

6) Participation based on participation in discussion groups and lectures. We reserve the right to offer short quizzes or brief written assignments in class which will count towards your participation grade. 10% (5% each term).

Evaluation:

In evaluating your work, we will look for evidence of careful reading of the primary text; a clear, cogent argument; and elegant prose. Both MLA and the Univ. of Chicago style are acceptable.

Note 1: Late assignments (except with medical documentation) are docked one grade point a day.

Note 2: There will be no make up quizzes for those missed in the seminars or lectures. Attendance in the seminars and lectures is a required component of the course.

Grading

A+ Extraordinary work that greatly exceeds the requirements of a third year paper. This grade is rarely awarded.

A Excellent work: very insightful analysis; clear and persuasive thesis that goes beyond the ideas presented in lecture; free of any typographical or grammatical errors;

A-/ B+ Very strong work: insightful and clear, but in need of a bit of clarification, revision, or proofreading.

B/B- Good work. Demonstrates a solid understanding of the text and lectures, but requires more significant revision, clarification, or proofreading

C+ /C/C- Average to poor work. Lacks a clear or insightful thesis and requires extensive revision, clarification, or proofreading

F Unacceptable or non-existent work.

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism is a serious instructional offence. The statement on Instructional Offences in the Undergraduate Calendar explains that plagiarism is “to use and pass off as one’s own idea or product work of another without expressly giving credit to another” (48). This includes material found on the Internet. All cases of plagiarism will be forwarded to the Dean’s Office.

REGULATIONS COMMON TO ALL HUMANITIES COURSES

COPIES OF WRITTEN WORK SUBMITTED

Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

PLAGIARISM

The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in “substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.”

Plagiarism is a serious offence which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of “F” for the course

PETITIONS TO DEFER

If you miss a final examination and/or fail to submit a FINAL assignment by the due date because of circumstances beyond your control, you may apply a deferral of examination/assignment. This supporting documentation must specify the date of onset of the illness, the degree of incapacitation, and the expected date of recovery.

If you are applying for a deferral for reasons other than personal illness, please contact the Registrar’s Office directly for information on other forms of documentation that we accept.

Deferrals of a final assignment or take home, in courses without a final examination, must be supported by confirmation of the assignment due date, for example a copy of the course outline specifying the due date and any documented extensions from the course instructor.

Deferral applications for examination or assignments must be submitted within 5 working days of the original final exam.
