In this seminar we will engage in the close reading of two giants of twentieth-century literature: Marcel Proust and Vladimir Nabokov. Though Nabokov was a harsh critic when it came to his fellow writers, he did admit to admiring Proust. Indeed, it is possible to say that Nabokov considered Proust to be his most significant rival given Proust's stylistic gifts and pre-eminence as the twentieth-century's greatest artist of memory. Nabokov's works are replete with direct references, coded allusions, and parodies of Proust, and these engagements with Proust intensify as his career develops.

We will read the supreme achievements of Nabokov's English-language period: his autobiography Speak, Memory and the two novels Lolita and Pale Fire. These will be read in conjunction with the first two volumes of Proust's In Search of Lost Time: Swann's Way and Within a Budding Grove. We will learn how to conduct advanced research, experiment with crafting of scholarly arguments, and—as a culminating project—annotate Nabokov's published lectures on Proust with the objective to have them published in TheNabokovian.org, the official site of the International Vladimir Nabokov Society.

Students proficient in French are encouraged to read and quote Proust in the French original. Everyone else will be reading and citing from the Moncrieff-Kilmartin-Enright translation of Proust's Search.

All students are strongly encouraged to read all the texts in advance during the summer. This will provide them with a base knowledge of these complicated works before the beginning of the school year. During the seminar itself, these texts ought to be read a second time for maximum absorption and enjoyment.

Because one of the course components is the annotation of Nabokov's lectures on Proust, it is best for students to use the editions cited below. French-speaking students ought to use the Gallimard editions of Proust's work.

NB: Students who miss four or more classes will not be eligible to submit work or write exams.

Required Texts

Marcel Proust, In Search of Lost Time: Swann's Way (Volume 1). Translated by C.K. Scott Moncrieff and Terence Kilmartin. Revised by D.J. Enright. New York: Modern Library, 2003.

Marcel Proust, In Search of Lost Time: Within a Budding Grove (Volume 2). Translated by C.K. Scott Moncrieff and Terence Kilmartin. Revised by D.J. Enright. New York: Modern Library, 2003.

Vladimir Nabokov, Lolita. New York: Vintage, 2010.

Vladimir Nabokov, Pale Fire. New York: Vintage, 2011.

Course texts will be available from Octopus Books (116 Third Avenue, the Glebe; phone #: 613-233-2589). These texts can be purchased in person or ordered on the bookstore's website (www.octopusbooks.ca). Web orders are sent directly to the student's home (at extra cost). If purchasing in person, please bring your course number and the course instructor's name with you.

Terms of Evaluation

Grade Distribution: 20% beginning-of-class unannounced quizzes; 10% oral presentation on an assigned topic; 10% annotated bibliography for research essay; 10% oral presentation on work-in-progress on research essay; 30% research essay; 15% annotations to Nabokov's lectures on Proust; 5% presentation of work-in-progress on annotations to Nabokov's lectures on Proust.

Ten unannounced multiple-choice QUIZZES at the beginning of class: In order to ensure that students come prepared for seminar sessions, they will write twelve unannounced multiple-choice quizzes designed to test their detailed knowledge of the works scheduled for analysis during that particular class. Of these twelve quizzes, only the ten highest-earning quizzes will count towards the final grade. Each quiz will contain ten questions and will be worth 2% of the final grade. All multiple-choice quizzes will be written at the beginning of class; those arriving late will not be able to write the quizzes and will therefore forfeit the quiz grade.

ORAL PRESENTATION on an assigned topic: each member of the class will deliver a class presentation. The presentation ought to be between 15-20 minutes in length. The topics will be circulated in advance and students will select their topic and date of presentation on the first day of class. The presentation will be graded on its substance and quality of oral delivery.

ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY: The annotated bibliography must contain approximately 8-10 bibliographic items relevant to a student-selected research topic. These may include books, essays, reviews or any other material that is justifiably relevant to the chosen research topic. Each annotation must provide a short summary of the work in question and a brief explanation of its relevance to the chosen research topic.

ORAL PRESENTATION ON WORK-IN-PROGRESS on research essay: These oral presentations are intended to provide the class with a summary of a student's work in progress on the research essay. Presenters will provide a synopsis of their research projects, explain why their research topics are of interest, what scholarship already exists on these particular topics, and what difficulties they are encountering in pursuing these topics. Members of the class will be invited to provide constructive criticism that will help presenters to bring their projects to a satisfying conclusion.

RESEARCH ESSAY: The essay should be approximately 16-20 pages long (double spaced, 12-point font). Longer papers will not be accepted. Research papers should be extensively researched, thoughtfully argued, and elegantly written. They should also strive to make an original contribution to the field of Nabokov and Proust studies. All members of the seminar are strongly encouraged to discuss their research projects with the instructor during office hours. Late papers will be penalized 2% per day, including weekends and holidays. Each essay will be graded on form—organization, grammar, syntax—(50%), and content—knowledge of texts, complexity of argument and analysis, appropriateness of scholarly research—(50%). NB: The final-essay grades are contingent upon an informal oral examination by the instructor.

ANNOTATIONS TO NABOKOV'S LECTURES ON PROUST: Each student will choose to annotate a segment of Nabokov's lectures on Proust. An example of such annotations can be found for Speak, Memory <https://thenabokovian.org/annotations/speak-memory> for Pale Fire <https://thenabokovian.org/node/35440>

for Nabokov's lectures on Russian literature
https://thenabokovian.org/annotations/Lectures_on_Russian_Literature

PRESENTATION OF WORK-IN-PROGRESS to Nabokov's lectures on Proust. Students will make a short, informal presentation to the class outlining their progress on the annotations. Though successes ought to be noted, emphasis ought to be placed on impediments encountered. Focusing on the impediments will elicit the help of classmates and instructor in overcoming these impediments through shared knowledge and the sharing of bibliographic materials.

Attendance and participation: Faithful attendance and informed participation are mandatory. Members of the class are expected to attend all sessions and to prepare readings and assignments carefully. NB: Students who miss four or more classes will not be eligible to submit work or pass the course.

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by the instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean.

REQUEST FOR ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION:

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request, the processes are as follows:

Pregnancy obligation

Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details, visit the Equity Services website:
<https://carleton.ca/equity/contact/form-pregnancy-accommodation/>

Religious obligation

Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details, visit the Equity Services website:
<https://carleton.ca/equity/focus/discrimination-harassment/religious-spiritual-observances/>

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

If you have a documented disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact the Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation or contact your PMC coordinator to send your instructor your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term. You must also contact the PMC no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with your instructor as soon as possible to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. For more details, visit the Paul Menton Centre Website:
carleton.ca/pmc

Survivors of Sexual Violence

As a community, Carleton University is committed to maintaining a positive learning, working and living environment where sexual violence will not be tolerated, and its survivors are supported through academic accommodations as per Carleton's Sexual Violence Policy. For more information about the services available at the university and to obtain information about sexual violence and/or support, visit:
<https://carleton.ca/equity/focus/sexual-violence-prevention-survivor-support/>

Accommodation for Student Activities

Carleton University recognizes the substantial benefits, both to the individual student and for the university, that result from a student participating in activities beyond the classroom experience. Reasonable accommodation must be provided to students who compete or perform at the national or international level. Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist.

All Students

Students are strongly encouraged to make optimal use of the instructor's office hours.

Office hours are set aside for students to discuss with the instructor all aspects of the course and to seek assistance with any problems they might encounter in fulfilling the assigned tasks. Two weeks after the beginning of the course, each student will be asked to attend a short, informal introductory meeting with the instructor in order to discuss the student's aims and expectations in the course. All students are also strongly encouraged to take advantage of the services offered at Carleton University, such as the following:

Centre for Student Academic Support (CSAS) offers students a variety of free services, including academic-skills workshops and information sessions, bookable study rooms, a tutor referral service, and a supportive staff of peer helpers. To learn more about these services, visit CSAS on the Fourth Floor of the MacOdrum Library, contact them by phone at 613-520-3822, or visit them online at <https://carleton.ca/csas/>

Writing Services offers students free one-on-one assistance with academic writing. To learn more about this free service, visit www.carleton.ca/csas/writing-services/. To make an appointment for a 40-minute session, call 613-520-3822, or visit in person at the Centre for Student Academic Support on the Fourth Floor of the MacOdrum Library.

Academic Advising Centre (AAC) provides students with support in the form of free one-on-one academic advising and study-skills appointments. To learn more about these services, visit www.carleton.ca/academicadvising. To make appointments for an advising or study-skills session, call 613-520-7850, or visit the centre in person at 302 Tory.

Career Services and Co-operative Education is an on-campus centre for career development, employment preparation, and experiential learning opportunities for Carleton students. Students are encouraged to use the various services provided throughout their time at Carleton by visiting its two service locations. Career Services is located at 401 Tory (613-520-6611); the Co-operative Education Program is located at 1400 CTTC (613-520-4331).

International Student Services Office (ISSO) is at the heart of Carleton's international student community. It supports international students, including incoming and outgoing exchange students, and promotes cross-cultural understanding within the Carleton community. ISSO is also responsible for the administration of Carleton's 80+ exchange programs. For more information, visit ISSO at 128 University Centre or contact by phone 613-520-6600. For general email inquiries, write to isso@carleton.ca; for exchange-program inquiries, write to exchange@carleton.ca. Website: www.carleton.ca/isso.

The Student Experience Office oversees the Co-Curricular Record. The Co-Curricular Record is an official record designed as a means of recognizing all students' "out of class" involvement in student leadership development, extra-curricular activities, and Carleton community service opportunities. To learn more about the Record, visit 430 Tory (613-520-2600 ext.7595), or www.carleton.ca/seo.

Plagiarism and Other Instructional Offences

Lifting phrases from web sites, print materials, and/or the written work of class members constitutes an academic offence. Written work suspected of plagiarism will be forwarded directly to the Office of the Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences (FASS). Assisting anyone in an act of plagiarism also constitutes an academic offence.

The University's policy concerning plagiarism and other instructional offences is outlined in the Undergraduate Calendar (see particularly regulation 14 – Instructional Offences). The University Senate defines plagiarism as "presenting, whether intentionally or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one's own." This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else's published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one's own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another's data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another's works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in "substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs."

Plagiarism is a serious offence that cannot be resolved directly by the course's instructor. The Associate Dean of the Faculty conducts a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of "F" for the course.

The policy can be found at: <https://carleton.ca/secretariat/wp-content/uploads/Academic-Integrity-Policy.pdf>

General Guidelines

1. Turn off cell phones and other technological devices upon arrival to class. This classroom has a “no-screen” policy. Official note takers will be assigned to take notes on a regular basis for everyone in class. These notes will be posted on CU Learn for everyone to use. Only official note takers will have access to a screen. Everyone else ought to take notes by hand. Studies show that taking notes by hand is far more conducive to learning. Should the “no-screen” policy cause trouble or anxiety, students are encouraged to seek a special dispensation from the instructor.
2. Do not arrive late to class. Arriving late is disrespectful and it disturbs both the instructor and the students. If arriving late due to unforeseen circumstances, please minimize the disturbance by sitting in a seat close to the doors.
3. Chatting with classmates during a lecture, seminar or class discussions is unacceptable in a university setting. It disturbs both students and instructor.

University Regulations for All College of the Humanities Courses

Copies of Written Work Submitted

Always retain for yourself a copy of all essays, term papers, written assignments or take-home tests submitted in your courses.

Academic Integrity at Carleton

Plagiarism is presenting, whether intentionally or not, the ideas, expression of ideas, or work of others as one's own. Plagiarism includes reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else's published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one's own without proper citation or reference to the original source. Examples of sources from which the ideas, expressions of ideas or works of others may be drawn from include but are not limited to: books, articles, papers, literary compositions and phrases, performance compositions, chemical compounds, art works, laboratory reports, research results, calculations and the results of calculations, diagrams, constructions, computer reports, computer code/software, and material on the internet. More information can be found here.

Academic Accommodation Policy

Academic Accommodation

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request the processes are as follows:

Pregnancy obligation: write to the instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details see the Student Guide

Religious obligation: write to the instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details see the Student Guide

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

Survivors of Sexual Violence

As a community, Carleton University is committed to maintaining a positive learning, working and living environment where sexual violence will not be tolerated, and is survivors are supported through academic accommodations as per Carleton's Sexual Violence Policy. For more information about the services available at the university and to obtain information about sexual violence and/or support, visit: carleton.ca/sexual-violence-support

Accommodation for Student Activities

Carleton University recognizes the substantial benefits, both to the individual student and for the university, that result from a student participating in activities beyond the classroom experience. Reasonable accommodation must be provided to students who compete or perform at the national or international level. Grading System at Carleton University

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor, subject to the approval of the faculty Dean. Standing in courses will be shown by alphabetical grades. The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points and the percentage conversion is below. Grade points indicated are for courses with 1.0 credit value. Where the course credit is greater or less than one credit, the grade points are adjusted proportionately.

Course Sharing Websites and Copyright

Classroom teaching and learning activities, including lectures, discussions, presentations, etc., by both instructors and students, are copy protected and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s). All course materials, including PowerPoint presentations, outlines, and other materials, are also protected by copyright and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s).

Students registered in the course may take notes and make copies of course materials for their own educational use only. Students are not permitted to reproduce or distribute lecture notes and course materials publicly for commercial or non-commercial purposes without express written consent from the copyright holder(s).

Statement on Class Conduct

The Carleton University Human Rights Policies and Procedures affirm that all members of the University community share a responsibility to:

- promote equity and fairness,
- respect and value diversity,
- prevent discrimination and harassment, and preserve the freedom of its members to carry out responsibly their scholarly work without threat of interference.

Deferred Term Work

In some situations, students are unable to complete term work because of illness or other circumstances beyond their control, which forces them to delay submission of the work.

Students who claim illness, injury or other extraordinary circumstances beyond their control as a reason for missed term work are held responsible for immediately informing the instructor concerned and for making alternate arrangements with the instructor and in all cases this must occur no later than three (3.0) working days after the term work was due.

The alternate arrangement must be made before the last day of classes in the term as published in the academic schedule. Normally, any deferred term work will be completed by the last day of term. More information is available in the calendar.

Deferred Final Exams

Students who are unable to write a final examination because of a serious illness/emergency or other circumstances beyond their control may apply for accommodation. Normally, the accommodation for a missed final examination will be granting the student the opportunity to write a deferred examination. In specific cases when it is not possible to offer a deferred examination, and with the approval of the Dean, an alternate accommodation may be made. More information.

The application for a deferral must:

1. be made in writing or online to the Registrar's Office no later than three working days after the original final examination or the due date of the take-home examination; and,
2. be fully supported by appropriate documentation and, in cases of illness, by a medical certificate dated no later than one working day after the examination, or by appropriate documents in other cases. Medical documents must specify the date of the onset of the illness, the (expected) date of recovery, and the extent to which the student was/is incapacitated during the time of the examination. The University's preferred medical form can be found at the Registrar's Office forms and fees page.

Any questions related to deferring a Final Exam or Final Assignment/Take Home Examination should be directed to the Registrar's Office.

Withdrawal From Courses

Withdrawn. No academic credit, no impact on the CGPA. WDN is a permanent notation that appears on the official transcript for students who withdraw after the full fee adjustment date in each term (noted in the Academic Year section of the Calendar each term). Students may withdraw on or before the last day of classes.

Important dates can be found here.

Financial vs. Academic Withdrawal

Make sure that you are aware of the separate deadlines for Financial and Academic withdrawal!

Making registration decisions in Carleton Central involves making a financial and academic commitment for the courses you choose, regardless of attendance. If you do not attend – you must withdraw in Carleton Central within the published deadlines to cancel your registration. More information
