

Presented by The College of the Humanities & The Glebe Community Centre

TALKING TO SOCRATES

WHAT ANCIENT ATHENS CAN TEACH US ABOUT POLITICS,
PHILOSOPHY AND THE GOOD LIFE

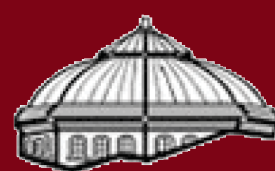

Professor D. Gregory MacIsaac

D. Gregory MacIsaac is Associate Professor of Humanities at Carleton University. He has taught in the B.Hum program since 1998. He took his B.A. degree in 1992 from the Dalhousie Department of Classics, in Ancient Languages and Ancient and Mediaeval Philosophy, and his M.A. (1994) and Ph.D. (2001) at the Department of Philosophy, University of Notre Dame (Indiana).

Carleton
UNIVERSITY

Admission Free
February 26, 7pm
Scotton Hall,
Glebe Community Centre.

GLEBE NEIGHBOURHOOD ACTIVITIES GROUP