

Free Public Talk & Botanical Art Exhibition

Tuesday June 2
Richcraft Hall, Carleton University

Ottawa Society of Botanical Artists

Established in 2012, the OSBA nurtures botanical art and artists within our region through education, exhibitions, activities and fellowship.

Over a dozen OSBA artists will be presenting works inspired by the conference theme, Supporting Diversity in All Its Forms

4:00-7:00 PM, Richcraft Hall Atrium

© Jan Salmon

A River Runs Through It: The Flora of the Ottawa Valley

The Ottawa River has carved the Ottawa Valley for over 10,000 years, resulting in a remarkable diversity of natural habitats supporting rich plant communities. The City of Ottawa alone is home to more than 1600 plant species, perhaps the most of any municipality in Canada!

Botanist and conservation biologist Dan Brunton will guide us through this landscape, highlighting the botanical treasures of the region, and their connection to the river running through it.

7:00 PM Richcraft Hall Auditorium

Supporting Diversity in All its Forms Soutenir la diversité sous toutes ses formes

June 2-5, Carleton University, Ottawa

Details and Directions: plantarum.ca/cba1

Canadian Botanical Association
L'Association Botanique du Canada

canadian museum of nature nature
musée canadien de la nature

uOttawa

Agriculture et Agroalimentaire Canada Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada