Hi, and welcome to the Biology 3201 Lab! This year we are offering an online and in person blended format. All labs will have an online component and zoom sessions to attend. There is no lab manual to purchase this year as all the info is provided for you online via Brightspace. I have posted a short version of the lab manual on line for those people who will be attending the in person labs. In order to accommodate physical distancing in the lab for safety there will be three groups/cohorts of students. Each group will only contain 8 students, the TA and the Lab Coordinator. Groups will be assigned during the first online zoom session Sept 14, 15, 16 at 1:30 pm. The in person labs and all zoom sessions will still occur during the lab period that you registered for. Each lab will have a Coordinator zoom session during which I will explain the theory behind the techniques and protocols and a TA zoom session during which they will go over how to analyze the data and complete the assignment. All zoom session are recorded and posted on Brightspace. Please pay attention to the course calendar posted on Brightspace to see when your cohort is supposed to be in the lab, when your assignments are due and when your zoom sessions are. The pre-lab talks and all relevant material is provided on Brightspace for all students.
