

Course	CDNS 2302/INDG 2302 Land, Water Capitalism
Instructor	Giuseppe Amatulli
Term	Winter 2024
Email Address	GiuseppeAmatulli@cunet.carleton.ca
Office Location	TBD
Office Hours	TBD

COURSE DESCRIPTION / INSTRUCTOR'S STATEMENT

The course objective is to provide knowledge about resource exploitation in areas of the world where Indigenous peoples are counteracting the impact 'extractivism' has on their lifestyle, culture and socio-economic organization.

By unpacking the concept of cumulative effects from an environmental, socio-cultural and economic perspective, the final aim of the course is to raise awareness on the role the extractive industry has in the contemporary world, how it shapes the socio-economic organization of our societies and whether and to what extent extractivism can be changed and, eventually, overcome.

EVALUATION

TBD