

SICS Research Symposium

Continuing the Conversation

VIRTUAL SYMPOSIUM | APRIL 7TH 2022 | 8:30-5:00PM EST

<https://carleton.ca/sics/2022/2nd-annual-sics-research-symposium/>

8:45 AM Opening Remarks & Land Acknowledgement

9:15 AM Session 1: Priorities from the Speech from the Throne

- Profit Over People? The Implementation of the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation in Canadian Provinces - Perri Mazurkewich
- When a Pandemic Meets an Epidemic: How COVID-19 has Affected Treatment Access Among Individuals Struggling with Opioid Use - Laura Polakova
- The Middle East in Canadian foreign policy and national identity formation - Jeremy Wildeman

11:00 AM Session 2: Reconceptualizing Knowledge and Research

- Dismantling the Euro Canadian school system and rebuilding an inclusive learning environment with equitable Indigenous perspectives and knowledge within curriculum - Jamie McCullough
- Resisting Colonial Extractive Research Methods: An Argument for Critical Discourse Analysis - Katherine Morton Richards
- The Ethics of Queer Archives: Curatorial Practice's Responsibility to Celebrate, Preserve, and Make Accessible - Callie Melter

12:35 PM Break

12:50 PM Session 3: Reclaiming Representations, Identities, and Histories

- Trailhead to Decolonization: The Use of Indigenous Multidimensional Stories as a Starting Point to Decolonization - Amanda Zotto
- Women in the War: Indexing in times of COVID - Rebecca Murray
- A Digital Ethnography of Canada's Multicultural Festivals: The Code-Switching and Facebooking practices of Francophone Musicians - Michelle Thompson

2:35 PM Session 4: Decolonial Strategies: (Re)Constructing Discourses and Solidarity

- From Reconciliation to 'Idle No More': 'Articulation' and Indigenous Struggle in Canada - Matthew Robertson
- A Political Philosophy of Indigenous-Settler Solidarity in the Context of Blockades - Aisling Gilmour

3:40 PM Break

4:00 PM Plenary Session: Continuing the Conversation

5:00 PM Closing Remarks