

“Enghelab Shod” Remembering the 1979 Iranian Revolution An Oral History Archive

Archive launch - February 2, 2023 at 5:30pm ET
Dunton Tower Room 2017
Carleton University (Ottawa, Canada)

“Enghelab Shod” [Farsi for “The Revolution Happened”] is a virtual oral history archive on memories of the 1979 Iranian revolution. As a significant moment in the history of contemporary Iran, a close and intimate view of the 1979 revolution reveals much about the hopes, the fears and the aspirations of Iranian people in their more than a century-long and ongoing struggle for freedom, independence and equality. Join us virtually and in person on February 2, 2023 to engage with some memories from 1979 as we strive to better understand what it means to live through a revolution.

More information and for virtual registration: <https://carleton.ca/ccph/>

Presented by Azar Masoumi, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology and Anthropology (Carleton University), Ronak Ghorbani, Doctoral Candidate, Faculty of Environmental & Urban Change (York University), and the Carleton Centre for Public History (CCPH)

