Grading:
Assignments: 15%
Midterm: 25%
Final exam: 60%

Course objective: To introduce the theory and practice associated with municipal infrastructure related to water treatment and distribution, wastewater collection and treatment, water reuse, and solid waste management.

Lecture material: Lecture slides and important course information will be posted on CUlearn. It is important that you receive and read e-mail messages concerning the course. Also, to lessen the environmental footprint of the course, some supplementary course materials will only be posted on CUlearn and not distributed in print.

Assignments: Approximately 8 assignments will be given throughout the course. The assignments will be a combination of reading materials, calculation problems, review articles etc.

Late policy: The assignments should be turned in by the due date. Please drop your work in the dropbox located on the 3rd floor in the hallway between blocks 3 and 4 of ME. If you cannot meet a deadline, please make arrangements with the professor before the assignment deadline; otherwise a mark of zero will be assigned. 50% of the grade will be deducted from the homework that was turned in late unless you can provide appropriate documentation.

Academic Accommodation: Students may need special arrangements to meet academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request, the processes are described below.

Pregnancy obligation: Write to me with any requests for academic accommodations during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the Equity Services website: http://carleton.ca/equity/

Religious obligation: Write to me with any requests for academic accommodations during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details visit the Equity Services website: http://carleton.ca/equity/

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable) at http://carleton.ca/vmc/students/dates-and-deadlines/

You can visit the Equity Services website to view the policies and to obtain more detailed information on academic accommodation at http://www2.carleton.ca/equity/

Copyright: Carleton University is committed to compliance in all copyright matters. Noncompliance is a violation of the Canadian Copyright Act. In addition to any actions that might be taken by any copyright owner or its licensing agent, the University will take steps against any breach of this policy.

In Canada, copyright for a work is given automatically to the creator of the work. The work does not need to be marked or declared as copyrighted in order to be copyrighted. The majority of works in Canada are copyrighted.
It is important for students to understand and respect copyright. Copyright determines your usage rights for a particular work, which includes textbooks, web pages, videos and images, both electronic and hard copy.

Students may not photocopy entire or major portions of books or other works, even if it is only for their personal use. Fair dealing makes some allowances for copying small portions of works. See Carleton’s Fair Dealing Policy for more information. If journal articles or portions of works are available through the library, either as hard copies or electronically, students may make a single copy for their personal use. Students may not distribute copies of works that are under copyright. For more information, see the Carleton's Fair Dealing Policy and the library's copyright website: www.library.carleton.ca/copyright

Course sharing website: Classroom teaching and learning activities, including lectures, discussions, presentations, etc., by both instructors and students, are copy protected and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s). All course materials, including PowerPoint presentations, outlines, and other materials, are also protected by copyright and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s).

Students registered in the course may take notes and make copies of course materials for their own educational use only. Students are not permitted to reproduce or distribute lecture notes and course materials publicly for commercial or non-commercial purposes without express written consent from the copyright holder(s).
