Student Consent to Publish

Background

In the course of promoting students and the Civil and Environmental Department as a whole, it is important to be able to publish or make reference to students and their work. Such publication or reference includes, but is not restricted to, the Civil and Environmental Engineering and Carleton University websites, brochures, on-line publications, faculty research papers, public lectures and the media.

Consent

In accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA), I hereby give my consent to the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering and Carleton University to publish or to make reference to me and my work, done as a student of the Department during the completion of course requirements, in the variety of venues stated above. This includes the course and project title, student name, photographs, and any awards given.

I further recognize that I may, at any time as a student or any time after, withdraw this consent by providing notice in writing to the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering.
