

The Centre for European Studies and the Institute of European and Russian Studies invite you to a public seminar:

Military Innovation in Europe and America : How to Bridge the Gap?

a public lecture with

Dr. Andrea Locatelli

With the advent and diffusion of information technology, progress in military innovation has proceeded at a quick pace. While the US seems eager to exploit this "revolution", Europe is definitely more reluctant to embark on a serious process of reform of its Armed Forces. As a result, a technology gap has emerged between the shores of the Atlantic. The lecture will discuss the implications of this gap on Trans-Atlantic relations, providing policy prescriptions for both the EU and European states

Where: Dunton Tower 2017, Carleton University

When: Tuesday, January 10th, 2006

Time: 12:00 p.m. - 1:30 p.m.
