

EU Visiting Scholar in Residence – Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada

European Union Politics

Fall Term (September – December 2020) or Winter Term (January – April 2021)

The Centre for European Studies at Carleton University (Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence, Ottawa) invites applications for a position as scholar-in-residence for a period of four months, either from September-December 2020 or from January-April 2021. The position will involve teaching one MA-level seminar on a topic in European Union Politics; the precise topic will be determined in consultation with the successful applicant to reflect their scholarly expertise. The course will be offered in the interdisciplinary Institute of European, Russian and Eurasian Studies \(EURUS\), possibly cross-listed with another unit such as the Department of Political Science.

In addition to teaching, the visitor will be expected to give one policy-oriented lecture at the Centre for European Studies on a topic of their choice and to write a two-page policy brief on the topic of the lecture in our EU Policy Briefs series. Participation in other teaching or outreach activities (such as guest lectures in other courses) are encouraged and will be facilitated. The visitor may also have the opportunity to visit other Jean Monnet Centres of Excellence in Canada. We will discuss a plan to maintain teaching and/or research collaboration after the visitor returns to Europe.

Applicants must be based at an academic institution in an EU member state. We are seeking applicants with a completed Ph.D. in a relevant field and with a record of publications, research, and teaching. The scholar-in-residence will receive a stipend to cover travel and accommodation expenses, as well as a fee for teaching.

Applications should include the following documents:

- A letter of application, explaining the applicant's interest in the position;
- A curriculum vitae, including a list of scholarly publications and teaching experience;
- A brief outline (maximum 200 words) of one or more potential topics for the course; and
- A copy of a recent publication on a topic relating to European Union politics.

Please submit required materials electronically no later than Monday, February 24, 2020, to CanadaEU@carleton.ca. All materials should be included as attachments in a single email with the subject line title "CES Scholar in Residence, YOUR NAME".

For further information, potential applicants may email Prof. Achim Hurrelmann, Co-Director, Centre for European Studies, at achim.hurrelmann@carleton.ca. However, please do not send application materials to this email address. For information about the Centre for European Studies, which is a Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence, see www.carleton.ca/ces.

Carleton University is committed to fostering diversity within its community as a source of excellence, cultural enrichment, and social strength. We welcome those who would contribute to the further diversification of our university including, but not limited to: women; visible minorities; First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples; persons with disabilities; and persons of any sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression. Carleton understands that career paths vary. Legitimate career interruptions will in no way prejudice the assessment process and their impact will be carefully considered.
