

Contract Instructor Opportunities FALL/WINTER 2024-25
FYSM: 1607 B: Thinking and Knowing
[1.0 credit, Fall/Winter 2024-25]

COURSE DESCRIPTION: Interdisciplinary examination of discoveries in linguistics, psychology, philosophy, and computer science concerning the question “What is cognition”? Issues may include the mind-brain controversy, the role of language in thought, and artificial versus natural intelligence.

Course Prerequisite(s): normally restricted to students entering the first year of a B.A., B.Cog.Sc., B.Co.M.S., B.Econ. or B.G.In.S. program.
Classes and seminars: three hours a week.

The modality of this course is determined by the University (in-person, online, or hybrid). This course will be taught IN-PERSON). Anticipated enrolment: 30 students with no TA support.

Pursuant to Article 16.3(c) of the CUPE 4600 Unit 2 Collective Agreement, subject to Article 15.2, expressions of interest are invited from member of the CUPE 4600 bargaining unit and other interested persons to teach the aforementioned Cognitive Science course during the 2022-23 Fall/Winter terms. Offers of employment and replies to these offers are subject to Articles 15.4 and 15.5 respectively.

Applicants should be near completion in a Ph.D. program in Cognitive Science or hold a Ph.D. in Cognitive Science or in a related discipline and have teaching experience in Cognitive Science at the university level. Qualified candidates must be able to demonstrate research expertise in the area of Cognitive Science.

Applicants are asked to submit a Curriculum Vita that includes a listing of all courses taught within the CUPE 4600 Unit 2 bargaining unit at Carleton University and a contract instructor application form (see link below). Applicants who are not incumbents should also submit a brief teaching dossier, highlighting information that is relevant to the course, and teaching evaluations, if available, from other courses taught. Please send the material by May 16, 2024 electronically to:
