Contract Instructor Opportunities Fall 2017 - Winter 2018
Carleton University, Institute of Criminology & Criminal Justice

Pursuant to Article 16 of the CUPE 4600 Unit 2 Collective Agreement, applications are invited from members of the CUPE 4600-2 bargaining unit and other interested persons to teach the following Criminology courses during the 2017/2018 Fall/Winter terms:

CRCJ 1000 [0.5 credit]: Introduction to Criminology (Fall 2016 and Winter 2017)
Overview of the field, including the foundational approaches of criminology and criminal justice, crime as an object of study; criminal law and criminality in Canada; (neo) classical, aetiological and social reaction perspectives; alternative criminologies.

Required Academic Qualifications and Skills: Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in a related field and have a record of publications in Criminology-related journals.

Teaching Competence: Candidates are required to have experience teaching at the university level in a related area. Candidates who provide evidence of success in teaching at the introductory level will be strongly preferred.

CRCJ 4002 [0.5 credit]: Special Topics in Criminology (Mobility, Migration, and [Crim]migration) (Fall 2017)
Examination of a special topic in criminology (mobility, migration, and [crim]migration).

Required Academic Qualifications and Skills: Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in a related field and must have research experience in the listed topic.

Teaching Competence: Candidates are required to have experience teaching at the university level in a related area. Candidates who provide evidence of success in teaching upper-year level seminar courses will be strongly preferred.

NOTE: Current estimations suggest capacity for the Department to offer two distinct CRCJ 4002 0.5 credit courses, each on different special topics, thereby providing fourth year students with various options to satisfy the requisite 1.0 credit elective at the 4000-level. Students registered in distinct CRCJ 4002 0.5 credit courses on different special topics will receive the full credit count toward their degree.

CRCJ 4001 [0.5 credit]: Special Topics in Criminology (Abolitionism) (Winter 2018)
Examination of a special topic in criminology (abolitionism).

Required Academic Qualifications and Skills: Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in a related field and must have research experience in the listed topic.

Teaching Competence: Candidates are required to have experience teaching at the university level in a related area. Candidates who provide evidence of success in teaching upper-year level seminar courses will be strongly preferred.

NOTE: Current estimations suggest capacity for the Department to offer three distinct CRCJ 4001 0.5 credit courses, each on different special topics, thereby providing fourth year students with various options to satisfy the requisite 1.0 credit elective at the 4000-level. Students registered in distinct CRCJ 4001 0.5 credit courses on different special topics will receive the full credit count toward their degree.

A note to all applicants: As per Articles 16.3-16.4 in the CUPE 4600-2 Collective Agreement, the posted vacancies listed above are first offered to applicants meeting the incumbency criterion.
