Re: Major Modification for 2024-25 Recruitment and Viewbook

A set of procedures and timelines have been established previously to ensure that Senate has the opportunity to consider and approve major modifications before they are advertised to prospective students. This process ensures that the Senate Quality Assurance and Planning Committee, Senate and its Committees, can give due consideration to major modifications likely to impact the recruitment and admissions processes. This memorandum outlines these procedures and timelines.

Major modifications likely to impact recruitment and admissions activities include:

- change in language of program delivery;
- establishment of an existing degree/program at another institution;
- offering of an existing program substantially or completely online, where it had been previously offered face-to-face, or vice-versa;
- the merger of two or more academic programs;
- change of program name and/or degree designation;
- significant changes to admissions requirements, where it affects learning outcomes;
- addition of a 15-credit bachelor's program, or 20-credit bachelor's degree program, or a combined honours program to an already existing honours bachelor's program; and
- concentrations and streams that have Admissions implications;
- program closure*.

At this time, academic units and Faculties are encouraged to consider whether they will be proposing any such changes to their programs for the 2024-25 academic year.

If so, the process for approval of these major modifications is as follows.

February, 2023	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Consultation between the academic unit and the relevant Dean(s) and Associate Dean(s) to determine if the proposal should be developed;</li><li>2. Consultation with the Office of the Vice-Provost and Associate Vice-President (Academic) and the Registrar's Office (for undergraduate programs) or with the Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Affairs (graduate programs) to confirm the process, timelines, and documentation required for the proposal to be considered;</li><li>3. Proposal entered in Courseleaf – select 2024-2025 as the effective year;</li></ol>
----------------	--

March, 2023	4. Proposal moves through the quality assurance and program approval processes. Approvals by: a. VPARC (if you are submitting an A1 change) b. Faculty Curriculum Committee c. Faculty Board
April, 2023	5. Proposal continues through the quality assurance and program approval process. Approvals by: a. SCCASP b. SQAPC c. Senate
May, 2023	6. Viewbook published and recruitment activities begin

Deans and Associate Deans are encouraged to ensure a March meeting of their Faculty Board should any of the units in their Faculty be proposing major modifications that will have an impact on recruitment and admissions activities.

The intention of processing these types of curriculum changes at this time is to ensure that the correct program information is included in the Carleton University Viewbook (published in May) and the Ontario University Application Centre (OUAC). In this way, the programs may be included in the full recruitment activities that begin in the summer and peak with the Ontario Universities' Fair.

We realize that these procedures and timelines may involve academic units, Deans' offices and Faculty Boards in additional work during the winter 2023 semester. However, the procedures and timelines will allow for the most effective advertising of significant modifications to academic programs for the 2024-2025 academic year.

*Program Closures

Program closures can only take effect two years following the initiation of the closure. This timeline also applies to concentrations and streams that have direct entry from Admissions. The approval of the closure needs to occur by the April Senate meeting so that the program entry will be removed for the 2024-25 calendar and will not be published in the 2024 viewbook.

Experiential Learning

Courseleaf includes a field titled "Significant Experiential Learning." Courses were reviewed and validated by each unit for the presence of experiential learning and entered into the 2021-22 calendar. All courses which have been coded with the presence of experiential learning will be identified in the course calendar by "Includes: Experiential Learning Activity." Any changes to the presence or type of experiential learning opportunity in a course will need to be entered into courseleaf, by the unit, as a minor modification.
