Prerequisites
The prerequisites for this course are ECON 2210 (or equivalent) with a grade of C- or higher, and ECON 1402 (or equivalent) with a grade of C- or higher, as outlined in the 2018-2019 Undergraduate Calendar. Students who believe that they have taken a similar background course or courses from another university must provide appropriate documentation to the Department of Economics Undergraduate Administrator, Amanda Wright (LA C875).

Please note that a grade of C+ or higher in this course is required to qualify for ECON 3900, ECON 3920, ECON 4002, and ECON 4706. DEF(ferred final grade) status at the end of this course precludes (continued) registration in any other course for which the former is a prerequisite.

Introduction
This course builds on the material covered in ECON 2210. Topics include correlation, simple and multiple linear regression, and an introduction to statistical computing using an econometrics package. The emphasis is on understanding appropriate methods and their properties, as distinct from their formal theoretical development. Empirical applications are included.
Precludes additional credit for ECON 2200 (no longer offered), ECON 2202 (no longer offered), STAT 2509, and STAT 2607.

Organization

The class will meet twice a week at 8:35 a.m. on Wednesdays and Fridays for an 80 minute lecture. In addition, an 80 minute tutorial session has been scheduled for 10:05 a.m. on Fridays (immediately after the Friday lecture). The tutorial sessions will be used for additional coverage of important course material, together with assignment-related activities.

There will be four (4) required assignments and a final exam. The final exam will be scheduled by Examination Services during the regular final examinations period (April 12-27).

cuLearn and the Carleton email system will be used extensively as a means of communication with students. Therefore, students are strongly advised to access cuLearn and check their Carleton email at regular intervals in order to check for new information. To access cuLearn and the Carleton email system, students require a MyCarletonOne account. For questions about MyCarletonOne accounts, students should access carleton.ca/its/get-started/ (and then click on either New Students or New Grad Students, as appropriate) or contact the ITS Service Desk https://carleton.ca/its/contact/

Academic Integrity

Please ensure that you are familiar with and comply with the Carleton University Academic Regulations as they apply to Academic Integrity: calendar.carleton.ca/undergrad/regulations/academicregulationsoftheuniversity/academicintegrity/

Assignments

Assignments will be posted on cuLearn and will be due in class according to the following schedule:

Students may wish to work together on assignment material, BUT each student MUST write up their own assignments INDEPENDENTLY. In this connection, please be sure to read Section 14.3 of the Academic Regulations of the University in the 2018-2019 Undergraduate Calendar, especially with regard to plagiarism and unauthorized cooperation and collaboration. For further information on recognizing and avoiding plagiarism, see “Pamment on Plagiarism and Paraphrasing” at carleton.ca/economics/course/writing-preliminaries

Evaluation

The final % grade for this course will be calculated as follows:
Assignments 40% (4 assignments equally weighted)
Final Examination 60%

This % grade will then be converted into the alphabetical grade system using the standard equivalences, as outlined in Section 2.3 of the Academic Regulations of the University in the 2018-2019 Undergraduate Calendar.

In the event that one or more assignments are not submitted, the weight of the missed assignment(s) will not be transferred to the final examination without a documented and compelling reason.

Students who do not write/attend the final examination because of illness or other circumstances beyond their control may apply to write a deferred examination. In order to write a deferred examination, students must contact the Registrar’s Office. (For further details, see Section 2.5 of the Academic Regulations of the University in the 2018-2019 Undergraduate Calendar.) In the event that a student writes a deferred examination, the deferred examination will carry the same weight as the final examination in determining the course grade. Needless to say, any deferred examination will not be identical to the original final examination.

Finally, please note that: “Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by an instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean.”
