

ORIENTATION FOR NEWLY-ELECTED MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

The Library of Parliament provides services to senators, members of the House of Commons, their staff and the public. The Library supports parliamentarians in their roles as legislators, as members of committees, associations and/or delegations, as members of caucus, and as representatives of a constituency. It makes the following products and services available to parliamentarians and their staff:

- impartial, expertly researched and rigorously fact-checked information and analysis;
- customized news alerts and media monitoring tools;
- legislative summaries about bills before Parliament;
- access to a comprehensive collection of print and digital resources;
- comfortable workspaces and meeting rooms;
- learning opportunities through seminars and information sessions;
- information and educational resources about the work of Parliament; and
- guided tours and services for visitors.
