

Carleton
UNIVERSITY

Faculty of Engineering and Design

Standards of Behaviour

All Faculty of Engineering and Design community members must abide by Carleton University's statement on conduct and human rights policies and procedures. In addition they must:

- Demonstrate values of honesty, caring, responsibility and respect
- Treat one another with dignity and respect at all times and especially when there is a disagreement
- Not inflict or encourage others to inflict harm (either bodily or emotional) on others
- Take appropriate measures to help those in need and if necessary seek staff assistance to resolve conflict peacefully
- Respect persons who are in a position of leadership (volunteers, staff, and faculty)
- All Faculty of Engineering and Design community members may not under any circumstances:
  - Use any offensive language
  - Share any adult material with inappropriate content, including but not limited to offensive language, violence, or nudity, etc.
  - Harass, discriminate or bully other participants or staff members

Live Engagement

I acknowledge that while participating in live online study sessions (optional), online collaboration will make my environment audible and visible to other participants, and I commit to providing a space from which I can participate that is supportive and free from inappropriate content or situations, including violence, profanity, and nudity.

I agree to not photograph or record any live study sessions with peers, and to respect the privacy of all study group participants.

Consequences

It should be recognized that all inappropriate behaviour has consequences. These consequences will vary depending on the situation and will be progressive in nature. More severe situations will result in more severe consequences.

The Faculty of Engineering and Design reserves the right to report conduct that does not adhere to University policies as applicable to student conduct; including but not limited to Student Rights and Responsibilities, Human Rights, and Academic Integrity.