The Actor's Craft: From Text to Performance

Course Description:

What is the actor's craft? How has it developed since the birth of Western theatre? Students in this course will be given the opportunity to explore their own ability to perform as they come to understand the essential skills needed to portray a role for an audience. The 'actor's tool kit' will be introduced through hands on exercises aimed to develop voice, movement, creative impulse and imaginative exploration. Students will put theory into practice working with classical and contemporary texts. One off site visit will be required to attend a professional theatre production. Attendance is very important for this course due to the practical nature of the workshop. Commitment to the ensemble is a part of the actor's duties and therefore punctuality is expected and will be reflected in the final grade.

Recommended Readings are available on ARES through CuLearn

A note on participation: Participation in class is mandatory. You must present a valid doctor’s note if you are going to miss class. Please inform me if you are struggling with any medical issues as accommodations can be made early on in the term. This course is open to every level of experience in drama and all students will be assessed on their willingness to learn as well as the success of their attempts. The readings posted on Ares will enrich your experience of this course. Active listening and engagement with the content is also considered part of your grade. Theatre is a collaborative art and requires a desire to investigate the human condition, a task that necessitates energy and drive. Be curious, ask questions and have fun!

Request For Academic Accommodation:

You may need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term. For an accommodation request the processes are as follows:

Pregnancy obligation: write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details see the Student Guide.

Religious obligation: write to me with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. For more details see the Student Guide.

Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send me your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). Requests made within two weeks will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with me to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website (www.carleton.ca/pmc) for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

PLAGIARISM

The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own.” This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in "substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs."

Plagiarism is a serious offence, which cannot be resolved directly with the course’s instructor. The Associate Deans of the Faculty conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student, when an instructor suspects a piece of work has been plagiarized. Penalties are not trivial. They can include a final grade of “F” for the course.
