Course Descriptions
Arts and Social Sciences

The following are descriptions of the courses available to ESP students in the Arts and Social Science stream for Winter 2022 semester. Please read the descriptions carefully before selecting your course preferences on your Course Selection Form.

Please note: courses are subject to cancellation and/or change.

- All new first year ESP students must register for CIED 1001 A (see Section A below)
- All ESP students must choose two half credits from the list of Elective Courses (see Section B below).

If you see a course with more than one section available, look at the Class and Workshop Schedule (on the ESP website) to see when each section is offered. Sometimes the same course is offered at different times, often (but not always) with different professors teaching each section (see Law for example).

A note about choosing courses: We have provided links (where possible) to the Elective Course outlines in Section B, below. These outlines tell you how you will be evaluated in that class. We recommend you look at the outlines (where possible) and use that information to help make your choice, according to your interests and strengths.

Section A:

CIED 1001 A: Selected Topics in Pop Culture
Instructor: Susan Burhoe

In this course we will explore modern American popular culture and how it both reflects and shapes experience of the world around us. You will be introduced to basic cultural theory and learn how scholars approach cultural “texts”. How do we “read” a music video, an ad or a TV crime show? How do the cultural products we consume influence our idea of what’s normal? What’s up with our fascination with zombies? Why do we care what celebrities do? What is our relationship to brand names? What do our musical tastes “say” about who we are, what we identify with, and how we see ourselves. How does advertising influence our tastes and self-concept?

We’ll look at some of the debates around pop culture, and how they relate to competing social values and hierarchies, with particular attention to ideas about race, gender and class. We’ll explore the ways in which cultural “anxiety” about social change is reflected in debates about pop culture. Our emphasis will be on examining how our various “entertainments” and leisure activities shape our ideas about ourselves and the world, throughout the 20th and 21st centuries.

Weekly Topics may include:
- Diamonds are a Girl’s Best Friend: Hollywood Glamour
- “Oh… the HORIZOR!”: Comic Books and Moral Panic in the 50s
- Buying-in: Advertising, Marketing and Identity
- I cast “detect evil”: RPGs, Video Games and Moral Panic
- Fight the Power: Music, Race and Culture
- Apocalypse Now: Zombies, Contagion and End-of-the-World Narratives
- Epic Fail: Humor & Irony in Modern Culture
- Twerk It: Miley, Twerking, and the Politics of Race & Gender
We’ll explore this material in lectures accompanied by film, TV, music, magazine, and internet clips, as well as through group discussion and activities. You will be graded on reading quizzes, papers that will ask you to analyze aspects of popular culture, and a final exam.
