Literature and Culture in Russia and Eurasia

Class Schedule: Wednesdays 11:35 am - 2:25 pm
Paterson Hall: 115

Instructor Info:
Vildana Stanišić-Keller
Office: River Building 3315

Office hours: Wednesdays 2:35-3:35 (appointments)

This course is designed as a general introduction to the study of Russian culture and literature through a range of interdisciplinary contexts, perspectives and approaches. It will provide a survey to the issues that shape cultures of Russia and Eurasia “before” and “after” through an exploration of the ideas reflected in their artistic traditions. Through our readings, screening of movies and classroom discussions, the seminar will focus on situating individual works in a cultural and social context to gain insights into the significance of respective cultural traditions.

WHY STUDY LITERATURE & CULTURE?

My abiding interest for literature, cultures, theatre, languages and social issues helps me in illuminating some aspect of the human condition, in gaining greater understanding of the ways of the world, in widening horizons about people and forces shaping our minds and actions. Living and studying, abroad and over here, awarded me with ability to unfold amazing intricacies of diverse cultures and ideas, and opened a gate into a broader context for pondering about life, questioning (im)possibilities of ideas, and understanding of differences and similarities in human experiences.

Someone said that “literature gives us a mirror in which to examine our collective reflection as a people”. Such a reflective aspect of literature lures me to engage with interdisciplinary projects as a portal to connect with variety of perceptions and their endless values…and much more...

You are thinking: WHAT IS HERE FOR ME? Apart from the course content, while studying literature and culture, you will refine the tools to appreciate and understand diverse cultures and societies, perceive the world from multiple viewpoint, improve transferable skills essential to your personal and professional future regardless of your academic interests and expertise. The skills such as effective communication, critical and independent thinking, comparing, reflecting, analysing and interpreting not only complement your experience, but also broaden your job prospects...

I assure you will enjoy narratives that delight and instruct us all!
The past decades have brought enormous changes to Russia and the other Slavic countries. Designed with those changes in mind, the Literature and Culture in Russia and Eurasia course puts emphasis on the study of Russia and the non-Russian regions.

Through our readings, screening of movies and classroom discussions, the seminar will focus on situating individual works in a cultural and social context with the aim of gaining insights into the significance of cultural traditions. We will also be addressing the role of the artist / intellectual vis à vis social context, and the literary stylization of the individual and collective experience.

With an assumption that literature is a form of cultural knowledge, the course will explore the ways in which literature creates a transitional space where the boundaries of language and subjectivity are continually shaped and reshaped on both an individual and a cultural level.

While this course has no stated prerequisite, it is assumed that the student has a basic understanding or interest of/in modern Russian context. If you like literature and cinema, the names of Turgeneyev, Gogol, Dostoyevsky, Bulgakov, Ulitskay, Prilepin, Solzhenitsyn, Sokurov, Mihalkov, Menshov, Zvyagintsev, Lungin will become more than objects of our study.

The general, methodological approach of the course will be a discourse analysis. In order to make the most of it and create the opportunity for a variety of expressions, we will employ elements of the flipped-classroom model:

- PREPARE:
  - Read/Watch video
  - Reflect
  - Question

- REFLECT:
  - Make notes
  - Investigate
  - Prepare questions

- PERFORM:
  - Express ideas
  - Discuss
  - Present

OBJECTIVES & OUTCOMES

OBJECTIVES

One of the main aims of this seminar is to give you the possibility of investigating complex topics from an interdisciplinary perspective. To have at least a glimpse into the historical and socio-anthropological background of the differences regarding cultural issues in the region, we would read and discuss different critical texts as well. They will help in clarifying the origins/causes of certain mentality (for example, discriminative mentality), mythologies of ethno-genesis, origins of religious beliefs, focusing on the dualistic character of the popular religions, their imprints in the art, gender roles within community (ex. popular explanations of the ‘natural inequality’ between man and woman), constructed images and stereotypes concerning different regions and the process of ‘virtualization’ of certain areas, the impact of the unification/division and other aspirations - reflecting the diversity of themes and styles in literature, and also touching on the question of how literature is reacting to the rising neo-conservatism and political pressure in society and culture.

Emphasis will be on illuminating concepts and ideas of reality and its representation, liberty and its conditions, social divisions and their implications on an individual, boundaries and their forms, nationhood and belonging, myth-making/invention and cultural tradition, and self-exploration and imagination.

INTENDED OUTCOMES:

- closer understanding of Russia and neighboring societies, the cross-fertilization of cultures and literatures;
- appreciation for the diversity of the cultures and the ability to synthesize diverse disciplinary perspectives;
- analytical and interpretative skills while applying background knowledge to culture-specific material through critical analyses and discussions.
- ability to critically analyze material, synthesize diverse disciplinary perspectives, present and debate arguments;
- ability to work independently and collaboratively in drafting, writing and verbal expression.
There will be one three-hour seminar per week consisting typically of a short introductory contextualization of major themes, followed by instructor- & student-prepared discussions, questions, small group to whole class discussion, and consolidation of the themes and perspectives.

Due to its format, the seminar offers students substantial opportunity for expression and intellectual challenges. The quality of the discussion and the seminar depends on doing our readings and being prepared for each class. Participation in discussions is essential to the life of the seminar and standing in the course.

COURSE TOPICS & RESOURCES

TOPICS

The course is organized into four broad units as thematic frames for our discussion on several topics, including but not limited to issues of class & gender, social norms, belonging, a role of an individual, memory, as well as phenomena and paradoxes of changes and reforms:

- A concept of the superfluous man (лишний человек);
- Myth of the “Russian/Slavic soul” (Русская/Славянская душа);
- Memory and nostalgia;
- Utopian & Dystopian existence.

To be able to discuss these topics, an essential part of this course is close examination of the sources, both primary and secondary. Since we will also be exposed to a various set of materials, we will, thus, be able to see the ways different disciplines interact—creating a network of complex perspectives on European culture.

There will be plenty of information covered in this course. However, the course is structured to accommodate diverse academic backgrounds and be low stress, providing everyone makes a good faith effort (and attends). I believe that all of us will work together to establish optimal conditions for honorable academic work and exchange of ideas.

Paying attention to the schedule (see the course calendar) and to the primary sources accompanied by the secondary sources (material posted on our cuLearn page) will heighten your performance and enrich your experience during our sessions.

I expect our journey through readings, movie screenings, and lively discussions will be an enjoyable discovery if you do assigned reading in advance.

PRIMARY SOURCES:

Primary sources are a combination of main readings and movie screenings. All books listed as the main readings should be available at the Campus bookstore and the Library Reserves. The movies are going to be featured during our in-class scheduled screening. While this course has no stated prerequisite, it is assumed that the students like literature and cinema, as well as reading, sharing ideas and views with others.

READINGS

To provide a sense of the larger political/social/historical context of the cultures in question, we will explore heterogeneous materials: works of literature (fiction), journalist and scholarly writing, as well as other texts. The course also integrates a scholarly conference on post-socialist cultures and screening of recent films. Thus, readings of literary works will be supplemented with other documents to provide a sense of the larger cultural-political-social-historical context in which they were written.

The readings are a combination of the main readings and supplementary readings (the book-store & course reserve materials and other resources). Everyone is responsible for the required and supplementary readings for each week. All texts are in English translation and movies with English subtitle. You are welcome to read texts in the original language.

MAIN READINGS:

- Heart of a Dog/ Собачье сердце by Mikhaïl Afanasyevich Bulgakov/Михайл Афанасьевич Булгаков
- Notes from Underground/Записки из подполья by Fyodor Mikhailovich Dostoyevsky/Фёдор Михайлович Достоевский
- One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich/ Одн день Ивана Денисовича Odin den' Ivana Denisovicha by Aleksandr Isayevich Solzhenitsyn / Александр Исаевич Солженицын
- Sankya/ Санька by Zakhar (Евгенью Nikolayevich) Prilepin / Захар (Евгений Николаевич) Прилепин
- “The Diary of a Superfluous Man"*/ "Дневник лишнего человека" by Ivan Sergeyevich Turgenev/Иван Сергеевич Тургенев
- The Funeral Party/ Веселые похороны by Lyudmila Evgenyevna Ulitskaya / Людмила Евгеньевна Улицкая
- "The Overcoat"*/"Шинель" by Nikolai Vasilievich Gogol/Никола́й Васи́льевич Го́голь

NOTE: Paperback editions of these texts have been ordered for the University Bookstore. All titles are available on the Library Reserves as well. During the class, the students are expected to have a copy of the texts.

MOVIES:

- “Burnt by the Sun”*/ Утомлённые солнцем (1994) by Nikita Mihalkov

“Tycoon”/Олигарх (2003) by Pavel Lungin

NOTE: All movies are with English subtitle. Synopsis, including trigger warnings and movie ratings, for each movie is posted on the cuLearn course page.

SECONDARY SOURCES:
Secondary sources - a combination of editorials and video material that are posted on the cuLearn course page according to our class calendar. We will be using some material from this list.

COURSE STRUCTURE & REQUIREMENTS & EVALUATION

This seminar course meets once a week for a three-hour session. Students are expected to attend all classes and do assigned readings. Attendance is mandatory and participation, based on active and effective involvement in discussions, will form an important part of the final grade. Each student is responsible for the main reading, as noted in the Course Calendar. A student or a group is responsible for selected supplementary readings (as indicated in the Course Calendar).

In the case you are not able to attend the weekly seminar for some good reason, please, inform me in advance (in person or via e-mail). The 1% will be taken off (of the Attendance total 10%) for each incident. Being late (more than 15 minutes) is a form of absence, and I will decide when a sufficient number of late arrivals (if not advised in advance) becomes equivalent to absence of one seminar. Overall, quality counts more than quantity, on both ends.
Participation in discussion is essential to the life of the class and intensity of students’ remarks will have a marked influence on grades. Much of the grade will also depend upon the quality of questions, presentation and the written assignment required by the course: an essay (running from ten to twelve pages). The presentation will deal with major aspects of the readings and the paper will deal with common aspects of the primary sources and discussions. Topics may be suggested by the students, but the elaborate topics for the written assignment will be provided in advance.

Thus, there are three requirements:

1. Effective Participation: Attendance and active involvement leads to consistent progress! 35%

   Attendance is taken in each session. This is a seminar that will develop through class discussion as a form of collaborative labor. Thus, regular attendance (including arriving to class on time) and thoughtful engagement with the course materials are crucial to its success. Careful preparation is a key component of your participation. Complete all readings and written assignments before you come to class in order to be ready to participate in that day’s discussion. Come to class with questions you have about the material and/or with specific issues or passages from works you would like to discuss. Preparation, thus, means not just having completed the assignment, but having engaged with the materials thoughtfully and actively.

   To have worthwhile class discussion and foster dialogue, it is essential that we all come to class having read the assigned material closely, being prepared to contribute by articulating and expressing your views, listening classmates and engaging in conversation respectfully. No one is expected to provide a brilliant insight at every moment, or agree with others’ views and comments, but coming prepared to voice your perspectives and interpretations is assumed. All your ideas, opinions, comments and questions matter!

   The whole class reads the main readings, and everyone is expected to contribute. Preparation means keeping up with the reading, articulating questions and issues to explore. You are encouraged to be creative and personal in expressing their insights and reactions, as well as responding to specific issues and texts of the seminar. For each book in our main reading list, students need to choose an issue, theme, character, paragraph(s) that appeal to them and communicate that during the class. Or, there is a comment or a question that you would like to share with the rest of the class. You are highly encouraged to participate through either of mentioned means in order to have your participation points granted accordingly.

2. Weekly questions 10%

   As an element of your preparation and active involvement, you will also be asked to post/e-mail a thoughtful discussion question on the course page. Please read all the questions before coming to class. Post/e-mail your question for the day on which you are not coming to the session as well. Questions are due every week - a day prior to the class. No question is due for the first two weeks of class.

   In the case you are not able to attend the weekly seminar for some good reason, please, inform me in advance (in person or via e-mail). The 1% will be taken off (of the Attendance total 10%) for each incident. Being late (more than 15 minutes) is a form of absence, and I will decide when a sufficient number of late arrivals (if not advised in advance) becomes equivalent to absence of one seminar. Overall, quality counts more than quantity, on both ends.

2. Presentation: Everybody is expected to do an oral presentation. 15%

   A presentation should be on a topic related to the secondary sources* (articles). We should have a group of students per class for the presentation of the topics related to the readings.
You are encouraged to work as a group (two to four people) in preparing a seminar presentation. Everyone involved needs to actively participate in the class presentation either by outlining the issues, presenting the key points, asking questions, commenting on arguments and discussion in order to have individual contribution to the group work appropriately evaluated. It is up to the group to organize division of the tasks.

The presentation should have a form of discussion or debate that would involve a team engaged/class in an argument on an issue raised in the readings or assigned by the instructor. Presenters are expected: a) to present key points/ ideas/ arguments/ propositions and information comprehensively and in a logical manner; b) to participate in constructive communication by listening critically and attentively in order to make connections, interpret, infer, confirm, summarize, question; c) to lead the discussion by briefly highlighting key themes and issues to explore; d) to provide handouts (1 page)*, with the key points of the presentation.

Since the heart of this course is discussion, the presenters are responsible for leading discussion/ conversation. A schedule will be distributed in the second week of class (upon signing up during our first session). Presenting the contextual material should take no more than 10 minutes and you will have the opportunity to have questions and lead the conversation for at least 15 minutes, after which, if and when discretion dictates, I may take over.

You are welcome to use space within the cuLearn server forum where you can (need not) submit any materials or links you would like us to consider before class. Each of us is responsible for checking the forum, but you must add any new material in a timely manner - at least 24 hours before your presentation. If you wish, bring to class any materials you like or are pertinent to your presentation. Please, include a list of sources in your handout as well.

3. Written Assignment 40%

For this course, you will be required to write a take-home exam: an analytical reflection essay.

The take-home is related to the issues discussed during the seminar and relevant to the themes covered by the literature and cinema. It will be assigned during our last class and posted on the course cuLearn page after the class.

Students are given topics out of which 3 (three) should be selected and elaborated in short (3 pages each) essays. Topics will be broad enough to allow you to explore your specific interests but will involve close reading of key passages and analysis of the major readings’ texts.

Papers are expected to be sent electronically as an attachment (document format) to me by 4:00pm on April 27, 2019.

The essay will be evaluated on the criteria of framing of the topic (a clearly defined argument, consistent formulation of the main ideas, internal organization of the text, correct citation of sources) and technical matters (spelling, grammar, and use of style guide).

The papers, with comments and evaluation, will be returned to you electronically in a timely manner.

Complementary critical texts for both presentations and papers will be suggested when we discuss the main ideas and concepts (during my office hours). You are welcomed to have your list of complementary literature.
The following criteria for evaluation apply to the course:

GRADING* - 12 POINTS

1. Effective Participation: attendance & active involvement
   a) attendance 1.2
   b) active involvement 3.0
2. Weekly questions 1.2
3. Presentation 1.8
4. Take-home 4.8

*The Carleton University uses 12 point grading scale from A+ (12) to F (0). Your overall Grade Point Average (GPA) will be calculated on the basis of this 12-point scale and the final evaluation you receive in the course will be submitted as a letter grade corresponding to this scale.

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by an instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS
Q&A

What is the course policy on academic freedom, classroom etiquette, or academic integrity?

“Sound scholarship rests on a commitment to a code of academic integrity that stresses principles of honesty, trust, respect for others, fairness and responsibility. The University demands integrity of scholarship from all of its members including students. The quality and integrity of academic work is paramount in achieving student success.”

What about technology use during sessions?

Please do not use your electronic devices during our sessions. Exceptions are made when using your laptop for class purposes – to take notes or access course material. In case of emergencies, you could always excuse yourself and leave the class.

What is the policy regarding plagiarism?

Presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own, reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source, submit substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once - not acceptable. Have confidence in your own potentials and abilities to produce your work! Penalties are not trivial at all!

Do get more information on this policy, violations, procedures, and penalties at http://calendar.carleton.ca/undergrad/regulations/academicregulationsoftheuniversity/academicregulations14/ or carleton.ca/studentsupport/

What is the policy regarding intellectual property?

Classroom teaching and learning activities, including lectures, discussions, presentations, etc., by both instructors and students, are copy protected and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s). All course materials, including PowerPoint presentations, outlines, and other materials, are also protected by copyright and remain the intellectual property of their respective author(s).

Students registered in the course may take notes and make copies of course materials for their own educational use only. Students are not permitted to reproduce or distribute lecture notes and course materials publicly for commercial or non-commercial purposes without express written consent from the copyright holder(s).

If you need special arrangements to meet your academic obligations during the term, please, contact me at the beginning of the term. Together, we can plan a strategy that will help you reach your goals for this course.

Accommodation for Student Activities

Carleton University recognizes the substantial benefits, both to the individual student and for the university, that result from a student participating in activities beyond the classroom experience. Reasonable accommodation must be provided to students who compete or perform at the national or international level. Please contact your instructor with any requests for academic accommodation during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist. https://carleton.ca/senate/wp-content/uploads/Accommodation-for-Student-Activities-1.pdf

For more information on academic accommodation, please contact the departmental administrator or visit: students.carleton.ca/course-outline

PLAGIARISM
The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own”. This can include:

➢ reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
➢ submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
➢ using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
➢ using another’s data or research findings;
➢ failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
➢ handing in substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.

All suspicions of plagiarism will be dealt with according to the Carleton’s Academic Integrity Policy (http://carleton.ca/studentaffairs/academic-integrity/). The Associate Dean of the Faculty will conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student. Penalties are not trivial. They may include a mark of zero for the plagiarized work or a final grade of F for the course.

Student or professor materials created for this course (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the author(s). They are intended for personal use and may not be reproduced or redistributed without prior written consent of the author(s).

SUBMISSION, RETURN, AND GRADING OF TERM WORK

Written assignments must be submitted directly to the instructor(s) according to the instructions in the course outline. If permitted in the course outline, late assignments may be submitted to the drop box in the corridor outside room 3305 Richcraft Hall. Assignments will be retrieved every business day at 4 p.m., stamped with that day’s date, and then distributed to the instructors. For written assignments not returned in class please attach a stamped, self-addressed envelope if you wish to have your assignment returned by mail. Final exams are intended solely for the purpose of evaluation and will not be returned.

Final standing in courses will be shown by alphabetical grades. The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points is:

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by an instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean.

CARLETON E-MAIL ACCOUNTS: All email communication to students from the Institute of European, Russian and Eurasian Studies will be via official Carleton university e-mail accounts and/or cuLearn. As important course and university information is distributed this way, it is the student’s responsibility to monitor their Carleton and cuLearn accounts.

OFFICIAL COURSE OUTLINE: The course outline posted to EURUS website is the official course outline.

In the case you need to address any issue regarding the course, or have some concerns about our sessions, readings, presentations, etc., please voice them during our class, come to my office hours, make an appointment, email me. Many things are settled only if communicated.
