GOALS OF THE COURSE

The course will examine relations between the European Union (and its members states) and post-communist countries to the east, including Azerbaijan, Armenia, Belarus, Georgia, Moldova, Russia, and Ukraine. Examples from a range of policy areas will be drawn upon, including border and visa policy, energy policy, and security issues in the post-Soviet space. Implications of Russian initiatives, such as the Eurasian Economic Union, will also be explored. Recent developments, including the Ukraine crisis, will be discussed and analyzed. The course examines the material from the perspective of various actors, to avoid either a Eurocentric or Russocentric approach.

The course will be run seminar style. Students are expected play an active role in the life of the class. Completion of course readings, participation in class discussions, class presentations, and a course paper will be required. In most class sessions, student presentation will provide additional material not covered by required readings, and students will present ideas from position papers on contentious issues.

Position papers and their presentation 15 %
‘Expert’ presentation and power point 15%
Term research paper proposal (Due Feb. 28) approved/not approved
Term research essay (Due April 16, 10 a.m.) 35%
Class discussion and attendance 20%
Simulation /debate and briefing note (Due March 2 in class) 15%

Requirements:
Please note that the exact form and timing of the class simulation (Week 7) or other weekly sessions may be adjusted, as an effort will be made to coordinate this activity with a partner university in Europe and/or Russia.

1. Seminar participation. Participation will be graded on the basis of attendance and the quality of regular contributions to the class discussion; familiarity with required course readings will be considered an important criterion of evaluation. Further guidelines for preparing for the seminar sessions will be provided. Please consult with instructor if you are concerned about this element, as I will try to assist in facilitating your participation.

2. Position paper: Each student is required to write one position paper related to a particular class session, which will be assigned early in the term. The paper should be about 5 pages in length (double-spaced, 12 point font, plus sources) and is due on the Wednesday, at noon, before the relevant class session, handed in through the CULearn Assignment box. Page limits should not be exceeded (no more than six pages). Each paper will argue a position, supported by evidence and sources, related to a specified question relating to the week’s topic. The questions to be addressed are on the course outline. You may suggest a different question for your paper, but it must be approved in advance. The paper should demonstrate familiarity with the course readings for the week but be focused around the student’s own conclusions and insights. Each position paper is due at noon on the Thursday before the relevant class session and should be sent to me by email. Students should be prepared to summarize their position orally in class. A bibliography of works cited should be included, and in-text citations should be used for direct quotes or specific references to the readings. It is not expected that you include readings beyond the required readings for the week, but optional readings may be included if desired. The position papers should NOT be summaries of readings. Papers will be evaluated based on the cogency and clarity of the argument, as well as evidence brought in support of it (including references to course readings). Students may replace their first marks with the mark on a third or additional papers, if desired.

3. ‘Expert’ presentation in class: Each student will make a presentation on a particular country or topic relating to one of the week’s readings. The presentation will be about 15 mintues per person and should draw on three additional readings. The presentation should be accompanied by a powerpoint presentation. A list of additional sources consulted should be provided at the end of the powerpoint. Students may select a topic that is related to the final term essay topic. A list of proposed topics is provided. Students may, with permission, form a team of two for a presentation, which would then be 25-30 minutes in length.

4. Term research essay (including proposal): Each student is required to write a term research paper (15 pages), which addresses a topic related to the EU/EU Member States relationship with one or more of the Eastern neighbours. Two types of term paper are welcome: a) A research note. This type of paper would provide in-depth research on a particular empirical question and would involve the use of primary sources. It will answer a ‘what’ or ‘how’ question. While you will need to explain the importance of what you are researching, the paper does not need to be theory based. b) An analytical paper. This paper would explore a particular ‘why’ or ‘how’ question, making use of secondary literature, and, if appropriate, some primary sources. This paper should situate the analysis in relevant theories and concepts. In either case the topic and tentative bibliography for the paper must be handed in for approval through the CULearn Assignment box by Feb. 16 at the start of class. The paper is due on April 16 at 10 a.m. in hard copy and submitted to the CULearn Assignment box, unless agreed separately. The instructor reserves the right to require the student to engage in an individual oral discussion on the research paper with the instructor (outside of class sessions) following its submission.

The paper proposal will receive an evaluation of approved/not approved. Proposals that are initially not approved should be revised. However failure to gain approval for the proposal (after revisions, if necessary) may adversely affect the mark on the final paper. See below on due dates and penalties for failure to hand in the proposal.
5. Class Debate. In week 7, a class simulation will be held about the future of the Ukraine crisis and the Minsk accords. Each participant will prepare a briefing note for the session (one page, single spaced). This will be handed in to the CULearn Assignment at noon on Wednesday before the relevant class session.

Due Dates and Penalties

Please note the following important rules associated with this course:

- Any student who fails to hand in the term research paper will receive a failing mark in the course. Penalties for late assignments will be as follows (waived with a valid medical or equivalent excuse):
  - Term essay or research paper: Two points (of a % scale) for each day late (including weekends). No papers accepted after April 20 at noon.
  - Failure to hand in the proposal for the term essay will result in a 5% deduction from the overall mark on the term essay, or a 2% deduction if handed in more than one week late. Failure to receive approval of the proposal may also affect the mark on the essay itself.
- Position papers, simulation briefing note: These assignments, if handed in late (without a valid excuse) but by the beginning of the relevant class session, will receive a maximum mark of 80% (of 100%). Papers handed in later than that will receive a maximum mark of 60% (out of 100%). Papers not handed in will receive a “0”.
- Students absent on a date of the simulation, ‘expert’ presentation, or oral presentation of the position paper will receive a “0” for the oral component unless a valid medical (or equivalent) excuse is provided. Students who are not able to be present for the presentation or simulation must inform the instructor as far as possible in advance of the class.

Readings (subject to change)

Several chapters are required from the following two books:

Tuomas Forsberg and Hiski Haukkala, The European Union and Russia (Palgrave Macmillan, 2016) (available for purchase in the bookstore, paper)

Other required readings are available through Ares, Reserves, or cuLearn.

Materials on the reading list below marked with an * are required. Additional materials are listed for most sessions for those interested in pursuing the topic of the seminar further. These may, in some cases, also be helpful for the ‘expert’ presentation.

Academic Accommodations:
The Centre for Student Academic Support (CSAS) is a centralized collection of learning support services designed to help students achieve their goals and improve their learning both inside and outside the classroom. CSAS offers academic assistance with course content, academic writing and skills development. Visit CSAS on the 4th floor of MacOdrum Library or online at: www.carleton.ca/csas.

The Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities (PMC) provides services to students with Learning Disabilities (LD), psychiatric/mental health disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), chronic medical conditions, and impairments in mobility, hearing, and vision. If you have a disability requiring academic accommodations in this course, please contact PMC at 613-520-6608 or pmc@carleton.ca for a formal evaluation. If you are already registered with the PMC, contact your PMC coordinator to send the instructor your Letter of Accommodation at the beginning of the term, and no later than two weeks before the first in-class scheduled test or exam requiring accommodation (if applicable). Requests made within two weeks will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. After requesting accommodation from PMC, meet with the instructor to ensure accommodation arrangements are made. Please consult the PMC website (www.carleton.ca/pmc) for the deadline to request accommodations for the formally-scheduled exam (if applicable).

Religious Observance: Students requesting accommodation for religious observances should apply in writing to their instructor for alternate dates and/or means of satisfying academic requirements. Such requests should be made during the first two weeks of class, or as soon as possible after the need for accommodation is known to exist, but no later than two weeks before the compulsory academic event. Accommodation is to be worked out directly and on an individual basis between the student and the instructor(s) involved. Instructors will make accommodations in a way that avoids academic disadvantage to the student. Instructors and students may contact an Equity Services Advisor for assistance (www.carleton.ca/equity).

Pregnancy: Pregnant students requiring academic accommodations are encouraged to contact an Equity Advisor in Equity Services to complete a letter of accommodation. Then, make an appointment to discuss your needs with the instructor at least two weeks prior to the first academic event in which it is anticipated the accommodation will be required.

Plagiarism:

The University Senate defines plagiarism as “presenting, whether intentional or not, the ideas, expression of ideas or work of others as one’s own”. This can include:

- reproducing or paraphrasing portions of someone else’s published or unpublished material, regardless of the source, and presenting these as one’s own without proper citation or reference to the original source;
- submitting a take-home examination, essay, laboratory report or other assignment written, in whole or in part, by someone else;
- using ideas or direct, verbatim quotations, or paraphrased material, concepts, or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment in any academic assignment;
- using another’s data or research findings;
- failing to acknowledge sources through the use of proper citations when using another’s works and/or failing to use quotation marks;
- handing in substantially the same piece of work for academic credit more than once without prior written permission of the course instructor in which the submission occurs.

All suspicions of plagiarism will be dealt with according the Carleton’s Academic Integrity Policy (http://carleton.ca/studentaffairs/academic-integrity/). The Associate Dean of the Faculty will conduct a rigorous investigation, including an interview with the student. Penalties are not trivial. They may include a mark of zero for the plagiarized work or a final grade of F for the course.

Student or professor materials created for this course (including presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the author(s). They are intended for personal use and may not be reproduced or redistributed without prior written consent of the author(s).

Submission, Return and Grading of Term Work:

Written assignments must be submitted directly to the instructor(s) according to the instructions in the course outline. If permitted in the course outline, late assignments may be submitted to the drop box in the corridor outside room 3305 Richcraft Hall. Assignments will be retrieved every business day at 4 p.m., stamped with that day’s date, and then distributed to the instructors. For written assignments not returned in class please attach a stamped, self-addressed envelope if you wish to have your assignment returned by mail. Final exams are intended solely for the purpose of evaluation and will not be returned.

Final standing in courses will be shown by alphabetical grades. The system of grades used, with corresponding grade points is:

Standing in a course is determined by the course instructor subject to the approval of the Faculty Dean. This means that grades submitted by an instructor may be subject to revision. No grades are final until they have been approved by the Dean.

Carleton E-mail Accounts: All email communication to students from the Institute of European, Russian and Eurasian Studies will be via official Carleton university e-mail accounts and/or cuLearn. As important course and university information is distributed this way, it is the student’s responsibility to monitor their Carleton and cuLearn accounts.

Official Course Outline: The course outline posted to EURUS website is the official course outline.
