

Feminist Institute of Social Transformation
Contract Instructor Opportunities for Summer 2023

Pursuant to Articles 15 to 18 of the CUPE 4600 Unit 2 Collective Agreement, and subject to both budgetary and administrative approvals, applications are invited from members of the CUPE 4600-2 bargaining unit and other interested persons to teach the following Women's and Gender Studies course(s) during the Summer 2023 term.

Please note:

- (a) All positions are subject to budgetary approval. Advertisement is not a guarantee that a course will be offered. The University reserves the right to cancel any courses with insufficient registration.

- (b) All or part of these courses may be delivered online or in person as required by the University and directed by public health authorities.

A note to all applicants: As per Articles 16.3 and 16.4 in the CUPE 4600 Unit 2 Collective Agreement, the posted vacancies listed below are first offered to applicants meeting the incumbency criterion. A link to the current CUPE 4600-2 Collective Agreement can be found at the Employment Agreements webpage on the Carleton University Human Resources website <https://carleton.ca/hr/labour-relations/academic-staff-agreements/> and the CUPE 4600-2 website <http://4600.cupe.ca/>

Full Summer:

WGST 1808 [1.0 credit] Introduction to Feminist Social Transformation [Online]

Overview of the many complexities, debates, methods, and histories of feminisms both in Canada and abroad. The course seeks to challenge the many taken-for-granted assumptions about gender, race, indigeneity, sexuality, ability, class, and other identities, perpetuating social inequities in our world. Topics include social identities, health, work, sex, poverty, violence, and media.
Offered May-August.

Early Summer:

SXST 3103 [0.5 credit]: Sexuality and Disability [Online]

Exploration of ways that embodied categories of sex and gender, as well as desire are mediated through mainstream and alternative discourses of disability. Topics may include: crip theory, mental health issues, and LGBTQ sexualities.
Offered May- June.

Late Summer:

WGST 2801 [0.5 credit]: Activism, Feminisms, and Social Justice [Online]

A comparative, interdisciplinary examination of feminist activism in the modern era. A range of perspectives and materials are used to examine the objectives, scope, and impact of feminists' efforts to effect social and political change in different historical, cultural, and national settings.
Offered July-August.

Required Academic Qualifications and Skills: Candidates must hold a Ph.D. in Women's and Gender Studies or a related social science and/or humanities discipline and must be able to demonstrate research and teaching expertise in intersectional approaches to gender, sexuality, critical race theory, and disability studies. Applicants should also have expertise (research/education/work experience) in the specific course topic.

Application Procedures and Deadlines

All applicants must apply to the Director of the Feminist Institute for Social Transformation (formerly the Pauline Jewett Institute for Women's and Gender Studies) in writing and in relation to each course for which they wish to be considered by January 13, 2023.

Email application to Dr. Amrita Hari at lanakeon@cunet.carleton.ca. Please assemble documents separately in the following order: cover letter, C.V. with names of three references, teaching evaluations.

As per Article 15.3 of the current CUPE 4600 Unit 2 Collective Agreement, applicants are required to submit an up-to-date C.V., including a complete listing of all courses taught within the CUPE 4600 Unit 2 bargaining unit at Carleton University. Candidates are also asked to complete a “Contract Instructor Application Form” available at <http://carleton.ca/provost/wp-content/uploads/CI-Application-FINAL.pdf>.

Candidates who have already contacted the department and submitted a CV recently need only indicate their interest in particular courses. NOTE that when applying to classes for which they have incumbency, applicants shall not be required to (re)submit documentation beyond their updated CV.

Carleton University is strongly committed to fostering diversity within its community as a source of excellence, cultural enrichment, and social strength. We welcome those who would contribute to the further diversification of our university including but not limited to women, people with disabilities, people from racialized groups, Indigenous peoples, and people of any sexual orientation or gender identity.