

Carleton University
Fall 2018
Pauline Jewett Institute of Women's and Gender Studies

WGST 5906 A: Feminist Theory

Tuesdays 8:35–11:25

Location: DT 1419

Please confirm location on Carleton Central

Instructor: Debra Graham

Email: debra.graham@carleton.ca

Office: 1410 Dunton Tower

Phone: 613-520-2600 x 1004

Office Hours: Tuesdays and Fridays 1:00 to 2:00 pm (Fall semester)

Our purpose in this Feminist Theory graduate seminar is to engage thoughtfully and critically (both as individual scholars and as an interdisciplinary intellectual community) with foundational conversations within feminist theories, past to present. Organized chronologically, we will investigate the shifts from modernist to postmodernist impulses that have guided hegemonic feminists' assumptions, including Liberal, Radical, (Neo)Marxist, Intersectionality, Poststructural, Postcolonial, Queer and Posthuman theories.

Complete course syllabus will be available shortly.