

MUSLIM WOMEN:

Identities, Labels & Lived Experiences

An interdisciplinary forum for scholars, legal experts, activists and artists engaged in radical research and intersectional praxis on the multiple subjectivities of Muslim women.

"Black Muslimah: Art and Resistance at the Intersection"

talk by Rania El Mugammar, artist and equity, anti-oppression and inclusion educator

Panel 1: Muslim Women and Girls: Culture, Faith, and Strategies of Subversion

Gulzar R. Charania (University of Ottawa)

Melanie Adrian (Carleton University)

Salina Abji (Carleton University)

Roshan Arah Jahangeer (York University)

"Beauty and the Muse" talk by Leah Vernon, style blogger, + model,
Muslim feminist, and body-positive activist

Panel 2: Muslim Women's Everyday Lives: Questions of Racialization and Integration

Leila Benhadjoudja (University of Ottawa)

Sonia Ben Soltane (McGill University)

Natasha Bakht (University of Ottawa)

Baljit Nagra (University of Ottawa)

Round table on Quebec's Bill 62, the "Religious Neutrality Law"

Screening of documentary film followed by Q&A
"A Canadian Muslim Woman – Sketches of Alia Hogben"

Free event and open to the public. Lunch and snacks provided.

Organized by the Joint Chair in Women's Studies

RSVP: ccef.jcws@uottawa.ca (or visit www.uocal.uottawa.ca)

Tuesday, November 14th 2017
9:00 am – 5:15 pm
University of Ottawa
55 Laurier, Desmarais, room 12102

Université d'Ottawa
University of Ottawa

Carleton University

Joint Chair in Women's Studies

Chaire conjointe
en études des femmes