

Sociology 5401W/ WGST 5901D

Critical Disability Studies

Professor Kelly Fritsch

Winter 2022

Wednesday 2:35 pm – 5:25 pm

Course Description: This seminar engages contemporary disability theory, culture, and activism to consider bodily difference and its relation to the workings of power and social control, accessibility, normalization, ableism, and medicalization. Students will gain an understanding of the contemporary debates, theories, and methodologies of critical disability studies.