- ◆ Norman Paterson School of International Affairs (NPSIA), Faculty of Public Affairs, Carleton University.

Every year the NPSIA Academic Committee, jointly with the Norman Paterson School of International Affairs hosts an academic conference on current issues in international affairs. The school is well known for training Canada's best and brightest graduate students in international affairs and has been rated no.2 in North America. As a fully accredited member of the Association of Professional Schools in International Affairs, students partake in an engaging and experiential degree process providing them with the necessary skills to serve as significant leaders in the international field and our complex global environment. NPSIA students are well known for their high value and training. The essence of this conference is to showcase the research work of students in the field of international affairs.

This year's conference will focus on the theme "Dynamic World and Emerging Horizons in International Affairs" and will consist of panels of prominent academics and professionals along with high caliber research from Canadian graduate students.
